Slug, Smile --Ike

President Gives Republicans Pep Talk

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower, in peppery mood on his 68th birthday, urged Republicans Tuesday to come out smiling but slugging against the Democrats in the elections campaign.

Ruddy cheeked and grinning, Eisenhower told more than 500 campaign workers at a birthday breakfast the way to respond to an opposition haymaker is to get up with a smile and wade back into the fight.

"You don't win a campaign in one battle," he said. "You win a campaign by sticking everlastingly at it, with the kind of attitude that is the attitude of a victor."

In an obvious reference to the GOP's defeat in Maine's September election, Eisenhower said that despite some political setbacks there is no reason for the Republicans to be discouraged.

'Sane, Sound'

Ticking off the accomplishments of his administration, he said it had given the country "sane, sound, logical government as opposed to radical government."

"Though there may not yet be established a just and permanent peace, there is no shooting," Eisenhower said, adding: "So, why should not our faces be bright,? Why should not they be grinning?"

In a gray suit, dark tie, and wearing a white carnation in his buttonhole, Eisenhower got a standing ovation from his hosts, the staff members of a half dozen Republican committees. Mrs. Eisenhower was there too.

Eisenhower told the party workers to flash a grin on any fellow on your team who happens to be irritating you at the moment. He said that would counter what he called false propaganda by the Democrats that the Republicans are divided and apathetic.

Behind Us

Saying each member of a team must be motivated in the same direction, Eisenhower said "let's put behind us all memory of past quarrels among ourselves, they are unimportant."

In a surprise, GOP national Chairman Meade Alcorn asked Eisenhower to lift the phone installed at the head table. On the line from Maplewood, N.J., was Mrs. Annabella Smiley Khalaf to report on a telephone campaign seeking support from housewives of Republican candidates.

Eisenhower said he hoped 2 million such calls would be made in New Jersey. When Mrs. Khalaf replied the goal is 3 million, Eisenhower burst out laughing and explained:

"Well, I'm being raised out of the pot."

He explained to Mrs. Khalaf that he was using a poker expression.

IT'S A HAPPY DAY

President Eisenhower enjoys a hearty laugh at the White House in this candid study which radiates his good humor on his 68th birthday anniversary. The chief executive, a white carnation in his lapel and wearing a necktie adorned with 2 elephants, had just received a gift recording by the Howard University Chorus of the prayer at his 1953 inaugural.

CANDIDATE MEETS PUBLIC

The bulging granaries of Nebraska's Third Congressional District look good to incumbent Republican Rep. Bob Harrison.

The congressman is relying on that good crop, plus the hardest campaigning he's ever done, to return him to Washington despite the fact that he won in 1956 by the slim margin of 246 mail votes.

For an interpretive account of the Harrison campaign, sixth in a series by Star political writer Don Walton who is spending a day with each of the major candidates, see Page 8.

Neighborhood Registration Totals 1,149

The final suburban voting registration Tuesday at Saratoga School saw 65 new registrations and 64 changes of address for a total of 129 and a grand total for the "neighborhood registration" of 1,149.

Election Commissioner Anna Evans said the downtown office will be open evenings the last three days before registration closes. Hours through Oct. 20 will be the usual 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and on Oct. 21, 22 and 23 the office fill be open for registration from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Monty: Peace Stalled

'War Could Have Ended in 1944'

New York (AP) — Field Marshal Montgomery says the western allies could have ended World War II in 1944 in Europe instead of in May, 1945.

The view that Germany could have been defeated a few months after the breakout in northern France is set forth in the 2nd installment of the memoirs of Field Marshal Montgomery published by Life Magazine.

Montgomery says he presented a plan concentrating the West's resources into a 40-division thrust directly up the West coast of Europe toward the Ruhr and Berlin.

The allied breakout from the Normandy beachhead began July 25, 1944, and swiftly overran German defenses. Montgomery wrote in his memoirs:

"The German situation in France in the middle of August 1944 was desperate. Paris fell on the 25th August and the next day the intelligence summary issued by Supreme Headquarters said: 'Two and a half months of bitter fighting . . . have brought the end of the war in Europe within sight, almost within reach . . .'

"The end of the war in Europe was most certainly 'within reach.' But what was now needed were quick decisions and, above all, a plan. I had a plan ready . . . ."

Montgomery says he and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Supreme Allied Commander, were "poles apart" in military strategy. He says Eisenhower adopted a "broad front" policy of all armies advancing which failed because there were not enough supplies coming across the beaches to support everyone advancing at once.

"The dismal and tragic story of events after the successful battle in Normandy may be boiled down to one fundamental criticism: Whatever the decision it wasn't implemented. The rightness or wrongness of the decision taken is, of course, open to argument. But what cannot be disputed is that when a certain strategy, right or wrong, was decided upon, it wasn't directed. We did not advance to the Rhine on a broad front: We advanced to the Rhine on several fronts, which were uncoordinated. And what was the German answer? A single and concentrated punch in the Ardennes (battle of the Bulge) when we were unbalanced and unduly extended. We were caught on the hop."

Red Propaganda Cited By Dulles

Wedge Try Charged

U.S. Remaining By Chiang Side

Secretary Hopes Demos, GOP Will Refrain From Debate On U.S. Foreign Policy

Washington (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles accused Red China Tuesday of propaganda and subversive activity, under cover of its Formosa Strait cease-fire, to drive a wedge between the United States and Nationalist China.

"The main theme constantly reiterated is that the Americans must abandon Taiwan (Formosa) . . . and go home," Dulles told a news conference.

"The United States remains loyal to its treaty of mutual security with the Republic of China."

The 40-minute news conference was devoted almost exclusively to questions about the Formosa crisis. On the subject of politics, Dulles said he hoped both Republicans and Democrats would refrain from discussing current aspects of foreign policy in the 1958 congressional campaign.

A reporter quoted a statement by Vice President Nixon at Chicago in which Nixon said "the Acheson foreign policy resulted in war and the Eisenhower-Dulles policy resulted in peace."

The reporter asked whether this criticism of the Truman administration's Secretary of State Dean Acheson fell within the limits Dulles had prescribed.

'Might Fit'

Grinning broadly, as if enjoying his evasiveness, Dulles replied: "It might fit without the limits." He did not elaborate.

After the news conference, newsmen sent Dulles a request for clarification. His response was to change his reply so that it read: "Both statements might fit without the limits which I hope both sides would observe."

Dulles referred to Nixon's comment and to a Democratic statement put out last Saturday and to which Nixon replied. The Democratic statement, issued by the party's 24-member Advisory Council, said Eisenhower administration policies had led the nation "to the brink of having to fight a nuclear war inadequately prepared and alone."

Dulles still declined to elaborate, but his amended comment seemed to indicate he felt Nixon and the Democrats who signed Saturday's statement had overstepped the bounds of what he regards as proper in discussing current foreign policy.

Earlier in his news conference, Dulles had said it was a difficult thing to control because a statement by one side inevitably invited a counter-statement by the other.

Dulles said he has no plans whatsoever for urging a reduction of Nationalist forces on China's coastal islands. On the surface, this appeared to be a reversal of his statement two weeks ago that it would be foolish to maintain the current garrison strength on the Nationalist islands if Red China agreed to a dependable cease-fire.

But Dulles did not picture it as a reversal. He quoted statements by Red Chinese leaders last Sunday, when Peiping's earlier one-week suspension of shelling was extended for two additional weeks. These statements invited defenders of Quemoy and the other coastal islands to build up their arms and supplies during the cease-fire.

Dulles said the Communists thus treated the islands "as a matter of indifference." He said the question of withdrawing Nationalist troops from them could not therefore be considered a bargaining issue or the price of a Red cease-fire.

LABOR LIKELY TO SUPPORT DEMO BROOKS

Lincoln Star Special

Scottsbluff, Neb. — The pendulum in a hot clash over AFL-CIO endorsement of a gubernatorial nominee appeared to be swinging toward Democrat Ralph Brooks Tuesday night.

Endorsement of a candidate will come Wednesday morning.

Labor union members, gathered here for their state convention, have been huddling in caucuses to determine whether to continue 1956 endorsement of Republican Gov. Victor Anderson.

The outcome, though far from final, appeared to favor Brooks on the eve before the decision, union leaders told The Star.

Hotel Magnate Eugene Eppley Dies In Omaha

Sold Chain In '56 For $30 Million; Once Owned Lincoln, Capital Here

Omaha (AP)—Eugene C. Eppley, 74, once reported to be the largest individual hotel operator in the world, died Tuesday night.

He had been ill for about two years.

The Eppley holdings included the William Penn — now the Penn-Sheraton—in Pittsburgh, the Fontenelle in Omaha, the Elms in Excelsior Springs, Mo., the Seelbach in Louisville, Ky., and the Lincoln and Capital in Lincoln.

The chain of 22 hotels was sold to the Sheraton Corporation in 1956 for 30 million dollars.

Eppley was a Sheraton director, a substantial stockholder in the Statler chain later acquired by Conrad Hilton and a director of Braniff International Airways.

From Hotel Family

He was born in Akron, Ohio, a member of an old hotel family, and went to Culver Military Academy and Leland Stanford University. He struck out for himself as a 12 cents an hour furniture unpacker in a new hotel about to open in Canton, Ohio. At 24 he became general manager of the West Hotel, Minneapolis.

In 1921, he moved the Eppley Hotel Company to Omaha where he built it into the largest individually controlled hotel system in the world at that time.

Before Eppley was 30 years old, he was elected president of the Hotelmen's Mutual Benefit Association of the United States and Canada, a pioneer and largest hotel organization of its kind in the world.

Active Socially

Long active in Omaha's business and social life, Eppley received the coveted honor of being crowned king of Ak-Sar-Ben in 1939. The Ak-Sar-Ben coronation is the top social event of the year in Omaha.

During the Second World War, Eppley served in Washington as national fuel administrator in charge of hotels, a "dollar a year" job.

For several years, Eppley served as a member of the national executive council for Chi Psi Fraternity. Himself a graduate of Leland Stanford University, he was instrumental in founding a course in hotel administration at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York.

Once Daredevil

Eppley had many hobbies, including airplanes, In 1911 when flying was still very hazardous, Eppley, himself a pilot, was billed around the county fair circuit in Ohio as "Daredevil Eppley who chills the crowd with the thrills of his air antics." Crash and resultant death of Andy Drew, a pilot hired by Eppley to assist him on the barnstorming circuit, ended Eppley's exhibitions.

Other hobbies of Eppley's were golf and horseback riding and he was an amateur thespian in his younger days. He was known over the United States for the exceptional parties he gave.

He never married. His philanthropies included a camp for underprivileged mothers and children near Omaha and 3 million dollars in gifts to Culver Military Academy.

Eppley died at his apartment in the Sheraton-Fontenelle. He had suffered a stroke some time ago.

The Eppley chain consisted of 22 small-to-large hotels in 15 cities in 6 states.

Youth Gets Life; Killed Classmates

...Albion Shooting Guilty Plea

Albion, Neb. (AP)—Kermit Keeshan, 17-year-old Albion youth, was sentenced Tuesday to life imprisonment in the Nebraska Penitentiary for a double slaying last May 21.

Keeshan had pleaded guilty to two charges of second degree murder in the slaying of two school mates, Jerry Sherwood, 18, and Diane Zaruba, 17.

Sentence was pronounced by District Judge Edmund Nuss of Hastings after about an hour of pre-sentencing discussion by Boone County Attorney Raymond P. Medlin Jr., Deputy County Attorney Raymond P. Medlin Sr., and defense attorneys William Lamme and Charles Yost, both of Fremont.

Brain Injury Claimed

All agreed that young Keeshan had committed the slayings and that he apparently knew right from wrong at the time. The defense asserted, however that on at least 4 occasions he had suffered brain injuries — from a fall down the basement stairs at the age of 4, from a fall off a horse in 1952, from a high temperature in 1955 and from an automobile accident two years ago.

Judge Nuss decreed that the sentences should run concurrently.

Keeshan and young Sherwood were rivals for the affections of Diane Zaruba and the killing happened when the two boys met while calling on the girl. Afterward Keeshan put a bullet into his own head and was hospitalized.

Keeshan remained impassive during the sentencing which took place in the presence of his family and relatives of the two victims.

No Effect On Parole

In Lincoln, statehouse sources said the fact that Keeshan had received two life sentences did not legally affect his chances for parole.

"It would seem to me that it would simply be a matter of the policy of the particular board which hears his case," said Deputy Attorney General Clarence Meyer.

Mrs. Loretta Walker, administrative assistant to the State Board of Pardons and Paroles, said the 17-year-old's sentence would be considered the same as a single life sentence.

"Only the years ahead will tell," she said, adding that the length of time Keeshan had served and his behavior as a prisoner would be taken into consideration by some future board."

Mystery Murder Is Solved

Detective Shared Cell With Killer

Chicago (AP) — A shocking, 2-year-old mystery slaying was solved Tuesday, police said, with the help of a young detective who shared a convict's jail cell for 35 days.

Police reported Barry Cook, 21, told of killing Miss Margaret Gallagher, 40, as she sunbathed on a Lincoln Park beach near heavily traveled Lake Shore Drive.

Leads developed by Anthony T. Muranaka, 25, American-born of Japanese parents, were credited with breaking the case which police had linked to Cook since last winter.

No Signature

Cook's account of the slaying, police said, was made before John E. Reid of the lie detector company bearing his name, in the presence of Warden Joseph E. Ragen in Stateville Penitentiary, Joliet.

Chief of detectives Patrick Deeley said Cook answered questions, but refused to sign the confession when proffered.

Cook was committed to Stateville July 14, after pleading guilty to 7 separate charges of assault and attempted robbery and is serving 1 to 14 years.

For more than two weeks before Cook's trial, Muranaka shared a county jail cell with Cook.

Police refused to reveal details of his spy activities, but Muranaka, whose prison name was Anthony Onno, said he won Cook's confidence by "listening to him and saying that I liked to beat up on people, too."

Pound Home Sold; Longtime Landmark Will Be Preserved Unchanged As Shop

One of the most noted homes in Lincoln has been saved from the bulldozer of progress.

The frame Victorian structure at 1632 L, home of the late Dr. Louise Pound, her sister Miss Olivia Pound and earlier of their brother Dr. Roscoe Pound, has been purchased by Mrs. Mary Peterson of Lincoln.

Mrs. Peterson said she plans to leave the 11-room home virtually unchanged when she establishes an antique shop and her residence there shortly after the first of the year.

The home was built in 1882 by W. J. Turner and purchased by Judge Stephen Pound, their father, in 1892. It has been the home of one or all of them since that time.

Miss Olivia said, in discussing the sale, that she and her sister, who died this June, had agreed earlier to sell the home this year. She cited the steady expansion of the business district around them as one of the main reasons.

The furnishings of the home were not part of sale, it was disclosed. Many treasured pieces, such as a chest which has been in the family for over 200 years, will furnish Miss Pound's new apartment when she moves the end of this year.

Other items, including memorabilia of Dr. Louise and Dr. Roscoe, will be offered to the Nebraska Historical Society.

Bomb Wave Hits Peoria

...Ike Says Act 'Shocking'

Peoria, Ill. (AP) — A home-made bomb damaged a Jewish temple of worship early Tuesday and police leaned to the theory that juveniles were responsible.

But authorities took no chances. They assigned a police guard to Robert Briscoe, Jewish former Lord Mayor of Dublin, Ireland who was in Peoria to push the sale of State of Israel bonds.

Peoria's police chief called the blast the work of a crackpot or screwball.

Chief Bernard J. Kennedy said he doubted the explosion was the result of any religious or racial tension in this central Illinois industrial city.

He said investigators apparently were without clues. He said several youths had been questioned and cleared. Also under interrogation, he said, were several adults who had been picked up in the past for crimes such as arson.

In Washington, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said President Eisenhower considered the bombing a "shocking and deplorable thing."

Peoria's religious and civic leaders condemned the attack on Anshai Emeth Temple which serves a 700-member congregation.

Bomb Hurled

The bomb, hurled at the annex of the Temple, shattered a glass basement door and 6 windows on all 3 levels on the building. The temple was empty at the time and no one was injured.

FBI agents from Springfield and state police joined Peoria authorities in the investigation. Scraps of the exploded bomb were sent to the police laboratory for analysis.

The attack represented the 6th bombing or attempted bombing of Jewish centers in the United States since mid-March.

The others were at Miami and Jacksonville, Fla., Atlanta, Nashville, Tenn., and Birmingham, Ala.

Hold 2

At Atlanta police said they are holding at least two of the men who were present here last May when terrorists plotted the bombing of the Atlanta Jewish Temple.

Capt. R. E. Little named the two as Wallace H. Allen, 32, and George Michael Bright, 35, both of Atlanta. Allen was booked on suspicion of bombing charges, and Bright on suspicion of vagrancy.

Aurora OKs School Bonds On Sixth Try

Lincoln Star Special

Aurora, Neb.—Voters finally approved a $150,000 bond issue for construction of a new grade school. The issue had failed on 5 previous votes.

Insurance payments of $100,000 will be combined with the bond revenue to build the new $250,000 structure.

The vote was 715 for and 427 against the issue.

Robert Knoll NU Faculty Senate Sec'y.

Dr. Robert Knoll, associate professor of English at the University of Nebraska Tuesday was elected secretary of the University Faculty Senate.

Dr. Knoll

He succeeds James Blackman, professor of engineering mechanics, who had held the office for 3 years.

In other business the Senate heard a report from the chairman of the committee on student loans, Prof. Richard Farley, assistant director of Love Library.

Prof. Farley said that between July 1, 1957 and June 30, 1958, $167,164.50 was loaned to 1,005 students compared with $3,528 loaned to 23 students in the 1947-48 period. These figures averaged $153 per student 10 years ago and $166 during the past fiscal year, he explained.

A policy change for this term made requirements for loans more rigid. Since September of this year, the Division of University Services under the direction of W. C. Harper has handled applications and the business of granting loans.

Prof. Farley said it is too early to make a definite statement whether stricter requirements have kept the demand for loans down.

Dr. Hunt Dies; Longtime First Christian Pastor Here

Memorial services will be held here Thursday for Dr. Ray E. Hunt, former pastor of First Christian Church for 18 years. Dr. Hunt died Tuesday morning in Kalamazoo, Michigan, at the age of 74.

Rev. Paul Becker, former minister at Bethany Christian Church, now of the Norwalk, Ia. Christian Church near Des Moines, and Rev. Charles Wilson, present pastor at First Christian, will officiate at the services.

Born at Parsons, Kan., March 15, 1884, Dr. Hunt served the local church from 1924 until 1942, at which time he accepted a call to Central Christian Church of Texarkana, Tex.

First Unit Built

During his pastorate at First Christian, the church was first built as an educational unit at 16th and K. At the time of his resignation he was praised by Dr. I. C. Munger, then chairman of the pastoral relations and pulpit supply committee, as having done wonderful work in building up the Christian education work.

Dr. Hunt received a bachelor of arts degree from Cotner College in 1909, took graduate work at the University of Wisconsin and the Union Theological seminary and held an honorary Doctor of Humanities degree from Nebraska Wesleyan, conferred on him in 1934.

During World War I he served in the Army YMCA at Fort Snelling, Minn. and as an overseas chaplain.

His first pastorate was at the Park Avenue Disciples of Christ Church in East Orange, N.J. From there he went to First Christian.

Held National Offices

He was chairman of the budget commission of the Disciples of Christ and on its national education board for 14 years.

President of the Nebraska Council of Churches in 1935 and 1936, Dr. Hunt served as legislative representative of the Anti-Liquor league, director and chairman of the budget of the Community Chest, president of the Lincoln Council of Social Agencies, director of the Goodwill Industries, of the Society for the Prevention of Crime and a member of the Lincoln Social Welfare Society.

He also served as pastor of a church in Hiram, Ohio.

Ex-Gov. Crosby To Address Young GOP

Bob Crosby, Lincoln attorney and former Governor of Nebraska will speak on "Republicanism and Youth" at a meeting of the Young Republicans Club at the Student Union Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The club will also pass upon a new resolution and bylaws.

Jana Hruska of Omaha, daughter of Senator Roman Hruska, was recently elected president of the club. Gary Rodgers was elected vice president.

City To Ask No. 10th Parking Permission

By Virgil Falloon

A suggested plan to restore parking on the east side of No. 10th between O and P will probably be recommended to the State Highway Department next week by the City Council.

The Council informally discussed the plan with City Engineer Carl Fisher and Mayor Bennett Martin. A proper resolution is to be prepared for Council approval.

In connection with the repaving of No. 10th with federal aid funds, the Bureau of Public Roads required the no parking to provide a right-turning lane.

No Parking 4-6

Fisher said the proposed plan would provide 6 parking stalls with "no parking" only during the 4 to 6 p.m. peak period.

At the P street intersection, both left and right turn slots would be installed for turning traffic and the present bus stop would remain near O.

Fisher said the plan would ease bus movements during peak periods and allow the restoration of some parking.

The city engineer noted that traffic experts say that parking on the entire street will eventually be prohibited, but such move is "at least two years away."

The eventual parking ban on No. 9th and 10th is seen in connection with increased traffic and construction of the Interstate Highway access spur to the downtown district.

Councilman Pat Ash said the plan would allow effected property owners to adjust to traffic changes. "Modernization of downtown streets requires change, but it should be gradual to permit business to adjust," he said.

City officials met with State Engineer L. N. Ress on the situation following a protest by property owners and business tenants affected.

26% Of Target Hit By United Campaign

Donations of $58,373 to the 37th annual united Community Chest and Red Cross campaign were reported Tuesday, bringing the total so far to $158,925 or 26% of the goal of $598,802.

Gene Eaton, employee division chairman, urged workers at the second report luncheon to keep up the good start established in the first few days of the Campaign and to complete their assignments promptly. Campaign workers will be cited for early completion of assignments as well as for obtaining the dollar goal assigned to them, Eaton said.

Lloyd J. Marti reported $41,163 had been turned in by the Advance Gifts division. A total of $91,800 has been reported by the division to date.

Industrial and Automotive division employees reported $1,171 to their chairman, Lee Berkheimer, for a total of $6,129 to date.

Charles Thorne, chairman of the Business and Professional division, reported $11,977, giving that division a $17,607 total.

Foods and Services division employees headed by Les Rau reported $1,401 to make a total of $2,546 to date.

The Public Departments division turned in $1,402 to chairman Fred Herrington for a total of $35,801.

The Women's Division increased their first day's record with an additional $1,259 reported by Mrs. Carl A. Donaldson, chairman. Their total now stands at $5,041.

The Rev. Everett S. Reynolds of the Newman Methodist Church offered the invocation for the noon meeting at the Chamber of Commerce.

Morrison Urges U.N. Mandate For Quemoy; 100 Attend First Of 4 Demo Women's Teas

By Don Walton

Democratic senatorial candidate Frank Morrison urged Tuesday that the Chinese offshore islands of Matsu and Quemoy be placed under United Nations mandate.

Speaking in Lincoln to 100 women at the first of 4 Democratic women's teas to be held over Nebraska, Morrison called for demilitarization of the islands and U.N. control for a period of 10 years.

Then, the Lincoln attorney suggested, they could be turned over to the Chinese government which the U.N. declared to be the rightful owner.

Morrison challenged Republican Sen. Roman Hruska of Omaha to justify "the Hruska Doctrine in Formosa."

"It commits America to what could be a course of war," Morrison said.

"The greatest challenge to America today," the Democrat told his listeners is to battle the seeds of "the socio-economic disease which feeds on the human decay of poverty, ignorance and hunger—Communism."

"A bloodbath and force of arms is not the answer," he said.

Clair Callan of Odell, Democratic candidate for the First Congressional District seat now held by Rep. Phil Weaver of Falls City, predicted Democratic victory in Nebraska Nov. 4.

"The trend is here," Callan said. The realization that Democrats will control Congress and a look at Republican records will convince the Nebraska voter, he predicted.

Teas will be held in Grand Island Wednesday, Columbus Friday and Omaha Saturday.

"Then, the next one will be held in the Governor's Mansion," National Committeewoman Mary Cunningham of Rulo told a smiling Mrs. Ralph Brooks, wife of the Democratic gubernatorial nominee.

Adlai Says U.S. Must Make Own Foreign Policy

Stevenson Plugs Demos In New York

New York (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said that while the United States must stand by its commitments in the Formosa area "we must make our own foreign policy and not permit it to be made for us."

Stevenson spoke at a news conference attended by Gov. Averell Harriman, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, former New York Senator Herbert Lehman and District Attorney Frank Hogan, Democratic-liberal candidate for U.S. senator.

Stevenson said he was here to "demonstrate the unity of the liberal leadership of the Democratic party."

The news conference seemed to have little to do with Harriman's campaign for reelection, or Hogan's campaign. But Harriman, as well as Stevenson, Humphrey and Lehman, all strongly criticized the Eisenhower administration's China policy, particularly in the current crisis over the offshore island of Quemoy.

Fund Dinner

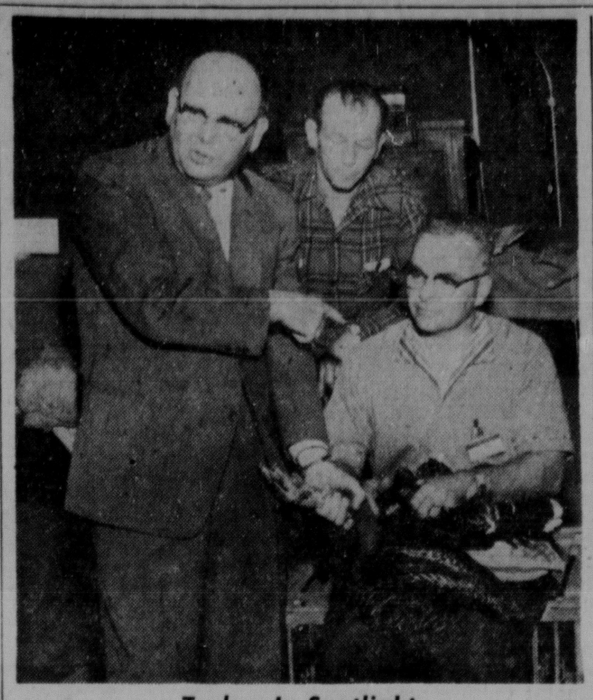
The news conference preceeded a closed-to-the-press Democratic fund raising dinner.

The two-time presidential candidate said it was tragic that the United States has committed its prestige to islands which are "hardly defensible."

He added:

"The result of the New York state campaign will reflect the anxiety of the people over the conduct and policy of the Eisenhower administration.

The talk ranged to California, where Stevenson said "the sun has crossed the Rocky Mountains" and the state will go Democratic "including both houses of the legislature, for the first time since California came into the union."



Turkey In Spotlight

TURKEYS SMARTER THAN YOU THOUGHT

By Len Colson

No one ventured to answer the age old question "Which came first the chicken or the egg?" but one member of the Nebraska Poultry Improvement Assn. made these observations Tuesday:

(1) Turkeys are a lot smarter than most people give them credit.

(2) A firecracker on the land is worth 2 shotguns in the bush.

Here to attend the 24th annual convention of the Association at the Lincoln Hotel, Ken Smith of Lexington, Nebraska state national director of the National Turkey Federation, said turkeys are "no dumber than humans in some respects."

'Cautious, Intelligent'

He called turkeys cautious, intelligent birds with more natural instincts than humans.

"If a fire started in a theater most humans would stampede for the exits. Turkeys stampede when they are frightened too so how can we say they are dumb?"

Smith said Thanksgiving and Christmas plates will have a high quality turkey on them this year.

He based his prediction on the quality of feed provided turkeys by the 1958 corn crop which he described as "one of the better crops."

There will be no more sleepless nights for turkey producers, Smith said.

"Firecrackers are now used to frighten coyotes and other predatory animals from the turkey flocks," Smith said.

Long fuses are taped to a series of crackers so one will go off every 15 minutes throughout the night, he said.

"No longer will I have to sit up all night with my shotgun waiting for a coyote on the prowl," Smith added.

Year Around

Turkey is becoming a year around food, Petter C. Crafts, Grasmere, N. H., president of the National Turkey Federation, told the Association members in an afternoon meeting Tuesday.

Americans now are eating about 6 pounds of turkey per capita per year, as against 2 pounds 10 years ago, he said.

Smaller birds, weighing as little as 5 pounds, will be put on the market, Crafts said.

Another speaker, Dr. John Adams, chairman of the Poultry Department at the University of Nebraska, said the average size of poultry flocks in Nebraska is too small to be efficient.

Nebraska's flock average was reported below 200 per operator compared with 750 to 1,000 desirable for peak efficiency.

Mrs. Sorrell Said Improved

Lincoln Star Special

Syracuse, Neb.—Mrs. Emmy Sorrell, wife of Democratic lieutenant governor nominee Frank Sorrell, was reported in "improved" condition Tuesday night after suffering a heart attack.

A longtime Democratic worker, Mrs. Sorrell was formerly national committeewoman for the Young Democrats of Nebraska.

Mrs. Sorrell is recovering at her home.

Hearings On Highway User Revenue Set

Representatives of several Nebraska cities and counties are expected to appear before the legislative study committee on highway user revenue at a public hearing in Lincoln Oct. 24, according to Dr. Jack Rodgers, research director for the Legislative Council.

Rodgers said the committee, headed by Sen. John Aufenkamp of Julian, desires all city and county officials interested in the allocation of highway user revenue to present testimony they believe worthy of committee consideration.

The Nebraska League of Municipalities, at its recent state convention, proposed that cities get a greater percentage of county road funds, and it is expected that its members will be well represented at the hearing to state their case for additional revenue.

The highway study committee plans an executive session following the public hearing to determine what recommendations it will make to the Nov. 18-20 meeting of the Legislative Council.

The legislative study committee on state retirement systems will hold its final executive session in Lincoln Oct. 23, Dr. Rodgers reported.

The committee, headed by Sen. Otto Koutouc of Humboldt, will hear a report from Robert Larson, professor of actuarial science at the University of Nebraska.

State Health Board May Get Vacancy

A vacancy is expected to be created on the State Health Board within the next few weeks when Mrs. Fred Putney changes her residence from Lincoln to Crete.

Mrs. Putney, whose term on the Board expires September 13, 1959, confirmed Tuesday that she and Mr. Putney are planning to move to Crete within a few weeks.

The Nebraska Constitution currently requires that members of such boards must be residents of Lincoln.

The 1957 Legislature approved, however, placing on the Nov. 4 ballot a proposed constitutional amendment which would provide that members of such bodies could live in other parts of the state.

Mrs. Putney said the move from Lincoln is planned because her husband's business affairs will require his traveling more out-state and that a residence at Crete will be more convenient.

Putney owns the Highway Equipment and Supply Co. of Lincoln.

Mrs. Putney said she will continue as a member of the Health Board until such time as their move is completed and that she expects to confer with Gov. Victor Anderson about her post at that time.

She was first appointed to the Board in September, 1953, after the State Health Board was created by the 1953 Legislature.

Man Holding Up Station Caught 20 Minutes Later

Nebraska City, Neb. (AP)—A holdup man armed only with a pistol-shaped cigarette lighter robbed the Union Corner Filling Station near Plattsmouth of $20 Tuesday morning, spurning about $40 additional which lay in front of him.

He was captured about 20 minutes later in Nebraska City and turned over to Cass County Sheriff Tom Solomon.

Otoe County Sheriff Ralph Hall and Solomon said the man identified himself as Bert Harrold, 35, Omaha, and drove a car registered in that name. The man said he was a city employe.

Their Own Boot Straps

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Downtown Development of Lincoln, Inc., is an organization of business and professional men who have a firm grip on their boot straps. They are dedicated primarily to the improvement of the central business district of Lincoln and the retention of this area as the main shopping center for the city.

They are not attempting to hide anything from anybody. They would be the first to admit that their interest is the protection of the huge investment represented in the stores of the central business district. But this should not be an interest peculiar to them alone. Nor is it essentially a selfish interest on their part. Quite naturally, they seek to protect their financial security, just as you and I seek to make ourselves more secure in the jobs we hold or the professions we follow.

A Universal Striving

It is not only important but essential that this interest be taken in the downtown area. For one thing, it is unnatural to find any satisfaction in hardship, and hardship would be the result of any failure among the people who do business in the downtown area.

It would be hardship for owners, stockholders, employes and the general public. Because you may not work there or have any money invested there, do not believe you have no interest in the affairs of the central business district. Lincoln's economy cannot be defined with any limitations, but rather, includes all business, industry and commerce of the city as a whole. Take away any part and the whole will suffer, if not die, just as a plant would wither without either water or sunshine.

Thus, no one will profit from a prejudiced obstruction of the program these men hope to put across. Some of what they seek to do can be done by themselves but, by far, the majority of their program will need the help and co-operation of all people within the city. Without this help and co-operation, the program will fail and every citizen of Lincoln will be a loser.

You may not find a great deal that is new and different in the program these men hope to work out. They want to apply good city planning to the downtown district, they want to analyze the tax structure and its specific application to downtown, to improve streets and traffic movement, to provide more parking, to give better mass transportation, to present a better physical structure, to have a pleasant and comfortable area and to promote their assets.

★

Yes, you have heard it all before and so have we. That is the very reason we say the businessmen have taken on "Operation Boot Strap." What could be more difficult to conquer than something which has beaten down every attack upon it for more than a decade?

Downtown Development of Lincoln has challenged the champions. We have worked hard at good planning in Lincoln but have not yet beaten the evils of favoritism and expediency. We have still not been able to hold fast to the line which says that all property shall be used and developed for the greatest welfare of the community rather than the personal ambitions of the owner.

Socialism? Not on your life it isn't! It means nothing more than the dedication of all resources to the fulfillment of our highest aspirations. It means we will not work at odds with each other, but rather, in harmony and co-operation. It means that we can see our own prosperity in the well-being of others. The same things are true of such problems as parking, good streets, mass transit and the other areas of study for this organization.

For The Benefit Of All

In one way or another, Lincoln has been turning its back on these problems and walking off into unreality. We now have a new approach, not through government, and we wish it every success. Don't think you have to agree with all the details but remember that if you cut the trunk too deeply, you'll find no fruit on the limbs. And those are your roots in the ground.

"We Have A Kind Of 'Two-China' Policy Of Our Own"

Never A Big Enough Stomach

Nebraska bankers heard an informed spokesman on agricultural economics say that the American people will never eat or export their way out of the farm surplus.

The speaker was Ernest T. Baughman, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago and editor of the bank's weekly agricultural newsletter. He was in Lincoln this week giving the word to the State Bankers Association's 61st annual convention.

Baughman dismissed the price situation as a discomfort, but not a root cause of the agricultural problem which he described as rather an explosive bulge in production due to mechanization, technology, and more efficient farming—a phenomenon that will bring about larger farms and fewer farmers, political efforts to the contrary notwithstanding.

One can go along with the Federal Reserve commentator on the matter of a nation trying to export or eat its way out of surpluses. The comforting prediction by some who see in the steady increase in population the makings of a food shortage some years hence hasn't a leg to stand on. Ever since the United States became a nation in the true sense of the word it has never experienced the threat of food shortage. It has consistently been a surplus producing country. It is interesting to note that the nation's productive acres, give or take a million or two, have remained constant the past 85 years. And though population has virtually doubled these same acres are swamping the consumers with surpluses at an unparalleled rate.

The circumstances validate Mr. Baughman's observation that farms will grow larger and farmers fewer. But that by no stretch of the imagination is to be mistaken for a remedy. It is the soil that produces crops. Technology and mechanization only provides for fewer men to produce more per acre. The liquidation of the small farmer is as illusory as is the conviction that greater population will be the remedy.

The problem still stands where it has been for some time, namely that of successfully administering plenty. We are stuck with it and it will never yield to solutions based on scarcity.

Spotlight On Industry

The Associated Industries of Nebraska will be meeting today in Hastings with the spotlight on several important issues. The two top discussions will cover the controversial secondary boycott and the acquisition of new industry. Leading men in business and industry will head the discussion of both issues.

The question of an area's industrial growth is of great importance to Nebraska. There are many false impressions about what kind of industrial development is wanted and what the industrialist himself seeks in a community. One common misunderstanding is that industry expects a community to give it something for nothing.

An industry which has to exist on tax exemptions and gifts is not one that we want in this area. A well-managed industry will not ask for these things. But they will ask for tax equality, for a good labor market, for good marketing conditions and for ample power, water and whatever other resources might suit their particular needs.

It is still a fact that many industries are changing locations for one reason or another while many others are expanding and still others are being newly formed. It is important that Nebraska be well acquainted with the considerations involved in the location of these new developments. Certainly, the demands of industry are constantly changing and the selling points on location that worked a few years ago may be outmoded today.

A thorough knowledge of industrial potential and the demands of industry can be a strong incentive for a constructive local program. Our natural advantages will never be exploited without an understanding of the fruits they can bear us. The Hastings meeting should be of benefit to the entire state.

Intimation Of Immortality

"Oh suns and skies and clouds of June
And flowers of June together,
Ye cannot rival for one hour
October's bright blue weather."

What graying Nebraskan cannot remember that beautiful quatrain.

And what graying Nebraskan cannot remember that it first came to his ears dimly from a teacher who seemed so far away, yet only a few feet away; and cannot remember that it brought him back from a sweet reverie. Though his fourth grade reader lay open on his desk, his eyes were not on it because his soul had sped through the window and was strolling tranquilly among the rich reds and golds and browns of a bland autumn out doors. Fourth graders can always slip away so subtly.

"Today," the teacher was saying, "we will learn about Helen Hunt Jackson, and for your assignment tomorrow you will all memorize the first stanza of October's Bright Blue Weather."

Everything is long gone — the teacher, the fourth grade reader and even the class room. So too, that momentary reverie and the undetected piece of spiritual truancy. But we must have learned the quatrain because we can still recite it.

We suspect we did not learn it from the book. Rather we picked it up as did Helen Hunt Jackson, out through that window while our spirit, putting all people and all worldly cares behind it for the nonce had gone straying in the wonderful October outdoors, in the glinting warmth of a dying sun amid the immortal colors of Indian summer.

Go out and see for yourself.

U.S. Children Can Rebuild Clinton

WASHINGTON. — One of the great things about America is the outpouring of generosity when other Americans get into trouble.

After the Clinton school board came to Washington to try to get some help for their bombed-out school and were unable either to see Eisenhower or get any federal funds, a lot of people felt very sorry for them.

This little community in the foothills of eastern Tennessee had been minding its own business and trying to obey the law when suddenly three bombs almost completely wrecked its high school. It all happened on the same night the school board had been meeting to try to raise money for a senior high school and was trying to get better buildings for three primary schools housed in temporary structures. The demolition of their high school, on top of all this, left them stunned.

However, a lot of people are beginning to wonder why this little Tennessee community should have to pay the penalty of being the object of Nazi-type terrorism.

As a result, some money is beginning to come in to help Clinton build a new schoolhouse. It hasn't come in floods, as yet. But more important than money is the fact that the building trades unions are putting their shoulder to the wheel.

☆ ☆ ☆

Said warmhearted Dick Gray, president of the Building Trades Council:

"We can't let one little community bear the brunt of terrorism. People may have mixed opinions about integration, but more of them have mixed feelings about using bombs to retard school children. We want to help."

Eddie Leonard, international president of the Plasterers Union, was equally generous. "You can count on the plasterers," he said.

Peter Schoemann, international president of the Plumbers, was also sympathetic.

"I used to be a member of the school board in Milwaukee," he said. "I know something about these problems. These kids in Tennessee ought not to suffer because of a mad bomber. Plumbing fixtures for schools aren't as expensive as for office buildings or private homes and if one of the big plumbing fixture companies will put up the fixtures, I know my men will want to do their share. Naturally, I'll have to talk to them, but I think I know what their answer will be,"

That's how labor reacted to the plight of the bombed-out children in Tennessee.

The finest contribution of all, however, could come from other children. If the high school children of the nation each contributed the price of one coke, the money for Clinton high school would be raised in no time. The price of one coke will buy one brick for Clinton high — a brick for good will instead of a bomb for hate.

DORIS FLEESON

McCarthy Helped By GOP Troubles

MINNEAPOLIS — The Minnesota Senate test of midwest voter reaction to a Catholic for high office is diluted by some hard-luck factors in the re-election bid of the incumbent Republican, Senator Edward J. Thye.

Minnesota Republicans are still engaged in party warfare over what philosophy and direction they should adopt. They are out of power in state government and Gov. Orville L. Freeman, Democrat-Farmer-Labor, is shown a 60 per cent favorite for re-election in the Minnesota poll, with only four percent of the voters undecided.

Governor Freeman has, in fact, shown so much administrative and decision-making ability that some observers already think they perceive a future clash on the Democratic presidential scene between him and his old associate, Sen. Hubert E. Humphrey. Presently, however, the two are working in tandem without visible strain and to the special profit of the challenger, Rep. Eugene J. McCarthy of St. Paul.

Thye's farm-belt appeal has kept down McCarthy's vote both in the Minnesota poll and private D-F-L soundings. McCarthy ran 51½ percent to Thye's 44 percent in the former, somewhat better in the latter. McCarthy will, of course, be riding the national trend with his party while Thye must cope with the defeatism belatedly tackled by President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon.

☆ ☆ ☆

Formidable rural reinforcements are also on their way to help McCarthy. In 1956 Sen. Estes Kefauver parlayed a Minnesota primary triumph over the combined Stevenson-Freeman-Humphrey forces into a vice-presidential nomination. Kefauver is now taking that durable handshake into rural Minnesota again for the whole D-F-L ticket, including his faithful supporter, Rep. Coya Knutson.

Mrs. Knutson overcame a challenge to her renomination to which her husband's complaints about her absence in Washington lent the catchy slogan, "Coya, Come Home." She has not since been enjoying the firmest possible D-F-L support, but the bread she cast upon the Kefauver presidential waters will now return to her toasted.

Detached observers report that Minnesota farmers have not yet had the word from the GOP high command that Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson is a great and popular public servant. Naturally enough, Benson is assailed on all sides.

☆ ☆ ☆

The apathy reported toward political rallies everywhere is wide-spread in Minnesota. In fact, only eight people turned up for one recent meeting attended by both Thye and McCarthy. But a possible explanation for that lies in the fact that all public opinion soundings turn up a remarkably small percentage of undecided voters. It is believed by some that voters here have made up their minds and won't change them and that a Democratic landslide is in the making.

MARQUIS CHILDS

China Problem Long Range One

WASHINGTON — Even though it means leaving the initiative to the Chinese Communists, if and when they decide to break the Quemoy cease-fire, American policy on China is currently to stand firm on the off-shore islands.

While critics may call this a "do-nothing" policy those who chart America's course believe there is no choice. And while it is sometimes reported that others in the State Department would like to take a bolder line it is Secretary of State John Foster Dulles who, with President Eisenhower's approval, makes the final decisions.

Dulles is convinced that the risk in trying to persuade Chiang Kai-shek to give up Quemoy and Matsu and pull his troops back to Formosa is too great. Not only would this gravely weaken Chiang but, by undermining the Nationalist Chinese position on Formosa, it would threaten the status of the United States everywhere in the western Pacific.

In reaching this decision Dulles, in discussion with his top associates, has projected the China problem as a long-term one that will almost certainly confront his successor. When he speaks of his successor he means, of course, the secretary of state who will take over in a new administration in 1961.

☆ ☆ ☆

The China problem can be resolved only by a certain number of births and deaths in Formosa. As Chiang's armies are made up more and more of Formosans the determination to hold Quemoy and Matsu as a psychological booster and a token of return to the mainland will be weakened. And as the exiles from the mainland die off it will be possible to treat Formosa as an entity separate from China.

If this means going through successive crises and war scares in the Formosa strait, then that is something to be endured in the current phase of the cold war. An extension of the cease-fire by Peiping was considered likely, and the announcement that it will be maintained for two weeks more has brought a distinct sense of relief. Dulles knew that if the opposite decision had been reached the Communists would perforce have had to enlarge the attack, since the artillery barrage had failed to cut off and subdue Quemoy.

Such an enlargement by aerial bombardment would sooner or later have brought American participation and in all probability a general conflict with China. Dulles had no illusions on that score as he waited for the first week of the truce to expire while he made his own plans to attend the services for the late Pope Pius XII.

The secretary believes that the Communists found the artillery barrage both futile and too costly. At about $100 a shell they fired a total number of rounds costing an estimated $50,000,000. After the attack started American military specialists coached the Nationalists in landing supplies under hazardous and adverse conditions.

☆ ☆ ☆

Far from taking a negative attitude toward Chiang, Dulles believes that his stubbornness has often served the free world. He cites the package deal to bring certain Asian nations into the United Nations that in the first instance included Outer Mongolia. Chiang was unyielding in his opposition, insisting that Mongolia has always been a part of China. As a result, the deal was revised and the other Asian nations were admitted while Outer Mongolia was kept out.

Discussing Chiang's role, Dulles gives as a more recent instance the generalissimo's declaration that if Japan, in a trade arrangement with Red China, allowed the Communist flag to fly over Red China headquarters in Tokyo he would break off relations with Japan. Trade between Japan and Formosa is currently much greater than any that the trade negotiation with Peiping contemplated, and Japan yields, calling off the agreement tentatively reached with the Communists.

As he analyzes the American position in the Pacific, the "falling domino" theory implies for Dulles a very real threat. Weak and unstable nations relying on the United States could not stand the shock of a seeming setback to the U.S.-Nationalist Chinese position. So, for the foreseeable future it is stand firm, regardless of what critics at home or abroad may say.

Gas Tax Fund

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Many moons ago, in the exercise of their infinite intelligence, the wheels for the wheel tax ought to have realized that the collection of wheel tax millions ought to be attempted from multi-million-dollar sources. The state gasoline tax fund is one of these sources and should therefore be considered and explored as a possible and potential source for more street improvement money.

So far this year about $30 million has been paid into the state gasoline tax account. The city and county are already receiving about $¾ million from this fund. Why not add another quarter of a million to the present disbursement and forget all about the proposed 10-year, $16½ million deal?

LEO N. BARTUNEK

Editor's Note: It is estimated that it would take another 2 cents gasoline tax to produce another $225,000 for Lincoln from this source. It should be remembered that Lincoln cannot receive additional gas tax funds without the rest of the state doing likewise. If you used 10 gallons of gas a week, you would use 520 gallons a year. An additional 2 cents of gas tax would cost you $10.40 on 520 gallons, more than twice the $4 wheel tax on passenger cars.

County Aid

Bladen, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: There are the kind of people among us today who look down on those receiving county aid. Do they stop to think that these people have helped to build the county to high standards, and are still honorable citizens? But misfortune overtook them and they lost out through no fault of their own. On the other hand, if it were not for the support of all people, the county cupboard would also be bare. So why do these people feel superior to those receiving county aid?

Growing Bigger

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Inflation acts upon the poor people like a prowler in the night. In some localities it seems to come about in a mysterious way. Not so in Nebraska where we have a State Railway Commission that day after day spearheads it. It is supposed to regulate rates for telephone, all types of buses, telegraph, express, railroads, and trucks. It is supposed to be the agency that keeps these services to the public as great as they are and then ever greater. But to our horror they allow important and necessary segments of these services to rot on the vine. And instead or resetting rates according to the cases at hand, every change to the three members of this board now seems to be to raise them.

These raises coming so often make us dizzy. With this commission as busy as bees, inflation in Nebraska is surely on the prowl, sniffing across the threshold of every farmstead and cottage. When they order a railroad or busline or other service discontinued, that is likewise a hot breath of the beast, inflation. We need easement from this super inflationary attack.

Divide And Conquer

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: For days now, I have seen and heard Republicans on TV calling Democrats Communists and Socialists, and Monday I read the letter from Rev. Geiswinkler of Shelton calling Democrats Communists and Socialists, and in the same breath he was upset over dirty politics. This must be a great comfort to the real Communists whose idea is to divide and win. Let us look at the facts and record of the past six years.

Suspected Communist set free.

Our defense far behind that of the Communists.

Huge amounts of money and materials given to the Communists.

Many countries going Communist.

Voting with the Russians and against our allies, the U.N.

Big business taking over small businesses and small farmers.

Tax cuts for big corporations, and taxes sky-high for the small working people.

Supreme Court decisions on Tidelands oil revoked.

No sign of a backbone. Giving them or letting them take any free country.

Where is this leading to? There is only one answer. Eventually it means a life of fear and shame and even worse.

My only child, my son, served seven years, too. He was in there to fight for our freedom if need be, not just to make rank. What do we wish to teach our sons? To be men? Or to be cowards and lose our freedom? What could be lower than calling a group of Americans Communists?

University News

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It is more than considerate of the editor to devote so long a note in answer to such an absurd letter as that of the university student published in "The People Speak" on October 11. I have been reading The Star for many years and have always been impressed by the friendly, fair and statesmanlike nature of its editorial comment on matters relating to the university and by the generosity of its news coverage. It would be interesting to know what kind of personal frustration motivated the student to write such a letter.

In Name Only

Alma, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: After looking over the voting record of all members of Congress on legislation pertaining to the welfare of people who are classed as laborers, I cannot see how our present members in Congress from Nebraska can have the nerve to ask for the vote or support of any person who is classed as a laborer, whether they be organized or individuals.

One exception to this is Rep. Cunningham from the Second District, whom I consider a Republican in name only.

500 Children Attending 'Ungraded' Classes In 4 Schools Here

By Don Walton

More than 500 Lincoln children are now attending "primary ungraded" schools as the result of a successful experiment initiated at Pershing School last year.

The Lincoln Board of Education was presented a detailed explanation Tuesday of the operation of the ungraded schooling method in a two-hour session at which final membership reports for public schools were also released.

Enrollment figures show 22,400 children, an increase of 849 over 1957-58.

Ungraded schooling, presently in force for first-year students at Randolph, Holmes and Elliott (to a lesser degree) and for first and second-year students at Pershing, is simply the elimination of artificial grade barriers.

'Continuous Progress'

More than that, it provides for continuous progress by the individual student at a rate according to his ability to learn, according to Dr. R. L. Fredstrom, assistant superintendent of Lincoln Public Schools.

There are no backward steps, such as occur in the graded school when a student "fails" a certain grade and begins the same courses anew the next year.

The experiment phase of the program began with 122 first-year (no longer referred to as first-grade) students and 4 teachers at Pershing School.

The students were divided into 4 groups based on their readiness and ability to learn (or, more nearly, maturity) with each teacher handling one group.

While they played together and took part in most activities as a class, the children were taught in separate groups according to the speed with which they could satisfactorily assimilate knowledge.

Within the groups, students also received individual aid.

Children could move from one group to another as their readiness to learn changed.

Said Success

Pershing teachers pronounced the experiment successful and parents, who participate in periodic parental conferences, also seemed happy with the method, Dr. Fredstrom said.

The schooling was therefore broadened to the other 3 primary schools this year in addition to continuing into the second-year at Pershing.

Hartley and Merle Beattie will add the program next year. And, Belmont and Huntington are planning to participate soon.

The graded school system is primarily an "administrative expediency," Dr. Fredstrom noted. It sets up artificial barriers and often prevents continuous progress, he pointed out.

Lincoln school officials will pursue the ungraded system (eventually in all primary schools, they hope) through at least the first 3 years, with a fourth year likely to be included.

"The fourth year is a more natural breaking point," Dr. Fredstrom said.

The ungraded system here is believed to be in use for the first time in Nebraska. It has been used at other points throughout the nation, most conspicuously at Milwaukee.

New Elementary School Talked For Children In Park Manor East

A new elementary school for east Lincoln to handle children in the Park Manor East area was eyed Tuesday by the Board of Education.

Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent of schools, told board members "we will definitely have to do something this year" to offset an expected increase of children in the area.

The present Eastridge School is now educating some 121 children from the Park Manor East area. They are transported by bus to school.

Eastridge School has a normal maximum capacity of 420, with 438 pupils now in attendance.

Nearly 200 youngsters will be living in Park Manor East by next year, Dr. Watkins said.

He suggested 3 solutions to the problem:

—purchase houses in Park Manor East to be used for school purposes, as has been done in other growing areas.

—plan for the construction of a school building to accommodate children east of the Holmes district, known as Park Manor East.

—add one unit to Eastridge and keep transporting children from Park Manor East to that school.

Favors Building

Dr. Watkins indicated that he would favor building a school as the solution in handling the 200 Park Manor East children.

The Board decided to hold a special meeting after members have checked with housing contractors and City Planning Commission members on proposed building plans in the area.

Mentioned as a possible site for the projected school was an area south of A and west of 70th where children would not have to cross either of the busy arterials.

Approximately $750,000 of building fund money has not been committed, Dr. Watkins said.

Enrollment In Public Schools Totals 22,400

Pupil membership for Lincoln public schools totals 22,400, according to figures presented to the Board of Education.

The breakdown includes 14,558 elementary students; 4,311 in junior high schools, and 3,531 in senior high schools.

Enrollment figures show an increase of 849 over last year.

County Ups Donation To Humane Society

By Del Harding

The Lancaster County Board Tuesday boosted its contribution to the Humane Society from $65 to $95 a month.

The Board in July had increased the support from $50 to $65.

Humane Society Treasurer Phyllis Haight told the Board Tuesday the Society wants to purchase a $2,400 gas chamber for putting animals to death. She also said two Society patrol cars were recently equipped with $1,400 worth of shortwave radio apparatus.

Mrs. Haight also cited increasing numbers of calls outside the city limits but within the county as requiring more financial support from the county.

Commissioner Del Lienemann voted against the $30 increase, declaring that a study he made in July showed a $65 monthly figure was adequate for the amount of work done on county calls. But Commissioners Russell Brehm and Rollin Bailey outvoted him to approve the increase.

Mrs. Haight said gas chambers are being used throughout the country for disposing of animals. She said at present the animals must be injected with a serum, and a slip of the needle could kill the "executioner."

She said the two-way radios are used by the Society's headquarters to communicate with the patrol trucks when the need arises.

The City of Lincoln, Mrs. Haight said, contributes $250 a month to the support of the Society.

FERGUSON SWORN IN

Kenneth L. Ferguson was sworn in as Lancaster County Register of Deeds Tuesday to fill out the unexpired term of the late J. G. Vaughan.

Ferguson, 33, also will be the Republican candidate for the post in the Nov. 4 general election.

The term of Mr. Vaughan, who died unexpectedly last Thursday, expires in January. Ferguson had served as deputy Register of Deeds since 1951.

County Clerk J. B. Morgan administered Ferguson his oath of office at the weekly County Board meeting.

'Double Play' Keeps Fire Units Moving

Two fires Tuesday evening gave the Lincoln Fire Department a chance to see how its system works for handling two business district fires—and without the damage likely to accompany such a realistic test.

At 7:18 p.m. firemen from Stations No. 1, 2 and 3 converged on Robinson's Clothing store at 12th and O. Rigs from all those stations automatically answer alarms in the business district.

With those rigs at one fire, the rest of the downtown area is unprotected. To fill the gaps, rigs from University Place and the station at Cotner and A go to No. 2 at 23rd and O and No. 3 at 12th and F, according to Assistant Chief Ben Kuhner.

Two minutes after the shift of trucks began, another alarm was turned in from a cafe at 745 So. 11th. So before the rigs even reached their replacement positions they were on their way to the second alarm.

Neither fire was serious. The first was in an incinerator, the second was lint in an air duct. No damage was reported.

Road Hearing Nov. 12

The Lancaster County Board Tuesday set Nov. 12 for a public hearing on the proposed closing of 3 county roads. County Engineer Louis Weaver has recommended the roads be closed because of lack of use and cost of upkeep. Roads involved are a one-mile stretch about 3 miles northeast of Havelock, 3rd St. from Van Dorn to Pioneers and a one-fourth mile stretch north of Agnew.

Transferees Pack Negro School

...Little Rock Official To Act

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—Some 200 Negro students have transferred from the closed-down Negro high school here during the past week, a school official announced.

The transfers represent nearly one third of the enrollment of about 700 at Horace Mann High, one of 4 high schools which Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed last month in a move to resist integration.

Pulaski County School Supt. E. F. Dunn said 205 Negroes had transferred to a Negro high school at Wrightsville about 10 miles south of Little Rock.

Dunn said the number of transfers was far too high. He said the Wrightsville school's accommodations were overtaxed and that he would act to nullify most of the transfers.

Contrary

The superintendent said David Boswell, principal at Wrightsville, permitted the transfers without his knowledge and contrary to instructions he had issued.

"They have disrupted the entire school program at Wrightville," Dunn said. "They're just having a carnival."

Dunn said the two-year-old J. C. Cook High School at Wrightsville has only 7 classrooms. Normal enrollment is 395 and with the Little Rock transfers it stands at 600, Dunn said.

The Arkansas Education Department has recommended a maximum of only 35 students for any classroom. The Wrightsville school's already overcrowded condition had led the school board to award a contract for 4 additional rooms but the work has been delayed by a strike.

449 Accepted

Most of the Little Rock transfers will be sent back to this city.

County schools have accepted 449 displaced white students from Little Rock high schools and Dunn said no more can be taken.

Faubus raised speculation there might be some announcement Thursday on an opening date for private, segregated high schools. An aide said the governor might make a televised speech Thursday night, apparently in connection with the school question.

Wednesday, 3 justices of the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis will hear arguments on the school-closing matter.

The justices—Harvey M. Johnson, Joseph W. Woodrough and Marion C. Matthes—will consider the legality of leasing Little Rock's empty high school buildings for use as private schools, from which Negroes would be barred.

Mother Of Youth Charged In Crash Fined For Speed

Mrs. Josephine R. Wertz of 4125 High pleaded guilty Tuesday in Municipal Court to driving 60 mph in a 35-mph zone and was fined $75 by Judge John Jacobson.

Mrs. Wertz, 41, is the mother of 18-year-old William T. Wertz, charged last week with motor vehicle homicide in the death of a 17-year-old Lincoln girl Oct. 6.

Mrs. Wertz was arrested after she drove through a radar speed trap on Capitol Parkway between A and D Tuesday morning, police reported. She told police she was late to work.

Her son and John Olney, 17, of 1301 Piedmont, have both pleaded innocent to motor vehicle homicide charges filed in the death of Constance Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lane of 2252 Smith. Miss Lane was a passenger in a car driven by Olney when it rolled over a county road south of Lincoln, apparently killing her instantly.

Petroleum Council Gives Scholarships

The Nebraska Petroleum Council has presented $100 scholarships to Union College, Wesleyan University and the University of Nebraska. The scholarships are to be given to students who show an interest in entering the petroleum industry, but the requirements for the grants are set by the colleges themselves.

The 3 scholarships are given annually by the Council during Oil Progress Week, which is Oct. 12-18 this year. The fund was established in 1957 through contributions from dealers in the petroleum business in the Lincoln area.

Harold Hays, chairman of the Lincoln area group of the Council, said that the scholarships will probably be awarded by each school in the near future.

Mawson Dies

Adelaide, Australia (AP) — Australian scientist and polar explorer Sir Douglas Mawson, 76, died in Adelaide.

In 1911 he discovered and mapped 1,000 miles of Antarctic coastline and discovered George V land.

Mawson had been ill for several years.

Home-Brewers

Moscow (AP) — The newspaper Baku Worker reports the Azerbaijan government is cracking down on home-brewers and wine and vodka bootleggers. Its new decree forbids private purchase and transportation of sugar and other makings and orders prosecutors to impose stiff penalties.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID, today!

Candidate Meets The Public:

Bumper Corn May Aid Harrison

(Editor's note: This is the sixth in a series of articles by The Star's political reporter who is spending a day with each of the major candidates.)

By Don Walton

Huge mountains of golden corn, stacked along roads throughout the 24-county, agricultural Third District bring a broad smile to the face of Congressman Bob Harrison.

For, not only do the bulging granaries attest to the fact that northeastern Nebraska has had a record crop this fall, they may also hold the key to victory for the 61-year-old Republican.

Harrison retained the seat he has held in the House of Representatives since 1951 by a paper-thin, mail vote margin of 246 in 1956 when Democrat Larry Brock of Wakefield came within a whisker of ousting him.

Harrison blamed that near defeat on a parching drought which had torn farmers off their dying soil and badly damaged the economic status of all Third District residents.

By the same token (and this has nothing to do with whether a good crop is a legitimate campaign issue), he figures to regain lost support from farmers pleased with abundance.

Harrison takes heart in noting that his 1956 primary vote of 12,193 jumped to 17,507 in 1958. (Brock's primary totals doubled but his 1958 figure trailed Harrison's by some 5,000 votes.)

Another factor enters the scene this fall:

Harrison has never campaigned so hard in all his life.

The technique: personal contact.

With a gesture which comes close to the initial motion of a polite bow, Harrison, hat in hand, introduces himself to the voter:

"I'm Bob Harrison, your congressman."

A quick exchange of general conversation, and they are parted, Harrison hurrying on to the next voter and another handshake.

But, in leaving, the tall, graying congressman makes a request he has never before made in 3 previous campaign drives over the district.

"I'll appreciate your support on Nov. 4," he will say.

Or: "The moral of this story is vote for Bob Harrison," or "I've had 7 years and asking for more."

Harrison, in short, is running scared (though, make no mistake about it, he expects to win). A slim, 246-vote margin dictates that kind of campaign and the Republican congressman has responded.

He doesn't talk issues—unless the voter triggers the conversation.

Farmers sometimes question the farm program and where it is going.

Harrison, Norfolk businessman and farmer, makes it clear that he wants the federal government to assume an increasingly lessening role in farm policy.

And, with great pride, he points to a product of his making, largely constructed by him and (as national Republican leaders will attest) in the final analysis saved from destruction by his will: Public Law 480.

Public Law 480 provides for distribution of surplus American farm products in foreign lands.

"It's the best piece of farm legislation in effect which gets at the root of the farm problem — price-depressing surpluses," Harrison, member of the House Agriculture Committee, tells a questioning farmer.

Labor corruption is also raised by some voters.

Harrison is happy to note that his opponent — Brock again — has the support of organized labor.

Betraying years of teaching and serving as school superintendent (at Bradshaw and DeWitt), Harrison talks in a precise manner.

While he hurries from store to store in tiny towns across the district, assistant Alan (Cub) Clem places posters in store windows. The congressman often has the aid of Mrs. Harrison, also a former schoolteacher.

In the final analysis, the farmer holds the balance of power in the Third District. Upon his decision hangs Harrison's fate.

The golden corn, shining in the sunlight, may really be the deciding factor. Anxious Republicans believe it will be.

Advance Filing Fees Ruled Out

A defendant must not advance district court filing fees on appeal from a criminal conviction in a lower court, the attorney general ruled Tuesday.

An opinion, requested by Burt County Attorney Keith Hopewell of Tekamah, said the State Supreme Court has ruled that prepayment of the filing fee or docketing fee was not a prerequisite to perfecting a criminal appeal.

Highway 92 Work Slated

L. N. Ress, state engineer, said Tuesday that sections of Neb. 92 are slated for improvements during the 1959-61 biennium.

Ress said improvement proposals envision work between Tyron and Stapleton; between Arnold and Merna, and between Ansley and Loup City.

He said some of the improvement work would center on hard surfacing.

Ford brings Thunderbird elegance to the low-price field with

THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFULLY PROPORTIONED CARS

AWARDED THE GOLD MEDAL for beautiful proportions—by the Comité Français de l'Elégance at the Brussels World's Fair

The new Fords for 1959 have a casual kind of elegance—the fresh crispness of design that distinguishes the Thunderbird. They are beautifully different from all other cars—and from all other Fords. This new beauty was recognized at the Brussels World's Fair where the 59 Fords, at a special preview, received the Gold Medal of the Comité Français de l'Elégance for beautiful proportions!

They have a straight-through appearance . . . a clean-cut look that is very open and airy, because the entire glass area has been designed to give you the modern picture-window feeling of indoor-outdoor living. The new thin-line roof is actually a sensational engineering achievement—to give you even greater safety. Yet it has an almost delicate look, a gracefulness and openness that will make riding in any other car seem "old hat" to you.

And this easy elegance is traceable to the sporting heritage of the beautiful Ford Thunderbird. These Fords are altogether new.

But the most beautiful difference of all is money in your pocket. The 59 Fords are the stand-out buy in the low-price field. They are superbly designed to give you all the supreme beauty, comfort, power and performance that only Ford's creative engineering can bring you. And Friday—you'll be able to get that New Ford Feeling in the World's Most Beautifully Proportioned Cars—but only at your friendly Ford Dealer's.

Pentagon Space Arm Asks Surrender Of 2,000 Missile Men

...Move Hit By Newsmen

Baltimore (AP)—The Baltimore Sun said the Pentagon's newly formed space arm has ordered Army Secretary Brucker to surrender to it 2,000 of the Army's top missile scientists, its Redstone Laboratory at Huntsville, Ala., and its entire Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Los Angeles.

"These constitute the heart and brain of the entire missile, satellite and space ship program," the newspaper said.

The move, wrote Mark Watson, the Sun's military correspondent in Washington, "almost certainly would mean the disintegration of the team of distinguished ex-German scientists who have been prime movers in development of Army missiles and leading proponents of future space ships."

In the field of Army scientists which could be transferred, Watson's article said, are 110 German scientists headed by Dr. Wernher Von Braun.

To Industry

"There is indication that if they are removed from their present effective teamwork and Army loyalty," Watson wrote, "many of the scientists will quickly turn to the industries which have been offering remunerative contracts. In that case they would quit the government service altogether."

Watson, a veteran of about 20 years covering military developments, said the "request" to Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker was oral, "but presumably will be followed shortly by a 'written request.' This will be tantamount to an order inasmuch as it apparently is supported by Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense. Quarles is acting during the overseas absence of Secretary Neil H. McElroy."

He said the oral request was made by Dr. Keith Glennan, chief of the new National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Watson added:

"Of the 4,100 personnel at Redstone Arsenal almost all are civilians. They are in continuous co-ordination with the Army Ballistics Missile Agency which has 1,200 additional personnel, largely military.

"In the group are 110 German scientists, headed by Von Braun. This is the residue of the original 150 experts whom the United States Army carefully selected from German laboratories immediately after the defea of Germany and invited to this country. They have been working ever since under Army direction.

"The extent of their devotion is indicated by the fact that only one has left since Gen. (John B.) Medaris arrived at Huntsville, Ala., where these installations are set up.

"Around this German core has been built up an organization of American scientists of comparable quality. About 1,000 of them are graduate scientists and engineers, and they, like the Germans, have repeatedly declined large money offers from industry."

Man Involved In Child-Stealing Case Here Jailed In Arkansas

Little Rock, Ark. (AP) — James B. Henry of North Little Rock, who figured last year in an interstate child custody case, is back at the Cummins State Prison Farm.

W. P. Ball, director of the Arkansas state board of pardons and paroles, revoked Henry's parole after Henry was fined Oct. 8 for drunken driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Henry, paroled a year ago, had served about one third of a 10-year sentence for robbery, burglary and grand larceny.

Henry and his mother, Mrs. Bertha Huddleston of North Little Rock, were charged with child stealing in Nebraska in 1957. Nebraska authorities charged that the pair took Henry's daughter, Marilyn Sue Henry, at gun point from a children's home at Lincoln.

The child had been placed in the Cedars Home pending outcome of a custody fight between Mrs. Huddleston and Henry's former wife, Mrs. Genlee Martin.

Last January Gov. Orval E. Faubus refused to extradite Henry and his mother to Nebraska.

Pulaski Chancellor Guy E. Williams in June granted custody of the child to Mrs. Huddleston.

Salk Shots

Warsaw (UPI)—Authorities said that 2,500,000 Polish children under 5 soon would be given their first Salk antipolio vaccine shots. A planeload of the vaccine arrived here from the United States with enough serum for 3,000,000 injections. Another planeload is scheduled to arrive in about a month.

I well remember the flash clattering off the AP wire:

"Coeds at Purdue University's Shealy Hall had orders to limit goodnight kisses on dates to one. Keep it as short as possible and display little or no emotion."

You can see how fascinating this was: "Keep it as short as possible." That is an interesting thought. "As possible" is the key on this. I could not figure exactly what it meant.

☆ ☆ ☆

There was also the matter of "display little or no emotion." Heavenly days.

They did not even say what kind of emotion.

Here is a lady getting a goodnight smooch. She may be catching a cold. Or she may be giving a cold.

Whichever way it goes, it is a highly emotional situation. You cannot handle respiratory ailments without emotion. Any more than you can face a loaded pistol without a tremor.

It depends on your type, I guess. Just the thought makes me emotional. But I am a very sensitive person.

☆ ☆ ☆

I do not recall when I was playing postoffice that we caught the common cold from the common kiss. I think we caught cold from getting our feet wet while ice skating. Or not wearing ear muffs like your mother told you.

It takes higher education to take the joy out of life.

When you are too young, you get your colds from not doing a lot of things you don't want to do anyway.

When you are old enough to see some possibilities in kissing, for heaven's sake, they set up a whole set of new and prohibiting rules.

Display little or no emotion. And gargle.

Lincolnite Reports Familiar Nebraska Faces Dot New York City Landscape

By Ada McVicker

(Mrs. McVicker, wife of The Lincoln Star's wire editor, William McVicker, is writing a series of articles about their trip to Europe — especially Scotland — for the Nebraska Press Assn.)

New York is a big city, but Nebraskans are never far away from fellow Cornhuskers as we observed here.

Art Wolf, who receives and files the cable news from Europe and South America for Associated Press, called to urge Bill to look over Associated Press facilities and to visit a while. Art's father is Otto Wolf, longtime editor of The Edgar Sun, and his sister is Maxine Wolf, state editor of The Lincoln Star. Another Nebraskan, Joe Wing, a Lincoln Journal cub reporter a long time ago and now one of the top boys in AP newsfeatures, also holds forth here.

The office looked a block long. Scores of printing machines were running. A battery of phones was buzzing and an army of AP men really were hard at it. They don't just sit around!

M. Besser, who covers United Nations for AP with the assistance of 5 other men, opened official doors for us at the General Assembly. His byline stories are often in our papers at home. He said he got some valuable experience with Bill's father, H. G. McVicker, night editor of The Lincoln Journal who served on the Journal staff 54 years.

It was exciting to sit in the press section watching the press at work covering the UN session for newspapers, radio and TV.

We heard representatives from Albania and Hungary berate the U.S. and Laos suavely defy the Communists. It would have been hard on the blood pressure if the surroundings had not distracted us so interestingly.

We were among 1,000 passengers scheduled to sail on the United States who were left to find another way across when the strike of masters and pilots hit this and other ports. The U.S. Line was optimistic at first and we thought a one-day delay might be all.

At Pier 86 the beautiful United States rode at anchor, looking trim and speedy despite her great size. She's 5 blocks long, the fastest liner afloat, and can travel 10,000 miles without stopping for fuel, water or supplies. Galleys can turn out 9,000 meals a day. It took 92,000 gallons of paint to decorate her.

Quickly changing to air transportation, we are about to hop off over the Big Drink expecting to be in Paris in the morning.

Visited the home of the late Zanna Anderson, artist from Lincoln who made good in New York and died at 39 at the height of her career. Her beautiful painting of Christ hangs in Lincoln's St. Paul Church. We were happy to tell her mother how it looks in the sanctuary there. From their roof top we looked out over the Hudson into the hills—one of the loveliest views we have ever seen.

We discovered another Nebraska newspaperman in Madison Avenue circles. He heads public relations for NBC—Edward "Tuck" Stanley, Aurora boy who made good. He was a Lincoln Star staffer, went on to the role of foreign correspondent, then into the public relations field.

DON'T CHANGE TIRES ON THE ROAD

Changing tires on the roadside is always dangerous. This dangerous procedure can be eliminated by servicing tubeless tires with AIR GUARD, the "weightless" sealant.

MAKE YOUR TIRES PUNCTURE-SEALING

Add the safety of puncture-sealing to the tubeless tires now on your car. New puncture-sealant prevents sudden air loss even after puncturing object is ejected from the tread of your tire.

The most recent technological advance from United States Rubber's Research Laboratories is a "weightless sealant" called AIR GUARD. This sealant, when placed in tubeless tires, ends the danger of roadside tire changing due to tread punctures.

AIR GUARD makes any tubeless tire equal in mobile puncture safety to the highest priced puncture-sealing tires available today. All tubeless tires have puncture-sealing characteristics as long as the puncturing object remains in the tread.

Field tests proved, however, that tubeless tires serviced with AIR GUARD maintain safe, drivable air pressure for 48 hours after puncturing object has been thrown out.

At highway speeds, tires have a tendency to throw out the puncturing object, leaving a hole in the tread. Once the puncturing object is ejected, air loss is sudden and dangerous. With AIR GUARD in your tires you do not experience sudden air loss because AIR GUARD rushes in and plugs the hole left by the ejected puncturing object.

Safe, drivable air pressure is maintained for 48 hours. Thereafter, you simply bring air pressure back to normal. You can keep this up for hundreds of miles until permanent repair can be conveniently made.

All punctured tires eventually require permanent repairs, even the most expensive puncture-sealing types. AIR GUARD permits repairing in the regular manner; and, unlike other sealants, has no adverse effect upon the tire's performance. AIR GUARD does not affect the handling characteristics or riding qualities of your car . . . will never cause out-of-balance condition.

AIR GUARD is an exclusive product of U.S. Rubber Company. This puncture-sealing service is rendered in less than an hour for all five tires. Come in today and add the safety of AIR GUARD to the tubeless tires now on your car.

INSTALLED All 5 Tires $8.95

AIR GUARD...A U.S. Royal Safety Exclusive

We can now safely retread Tubeless Tires by unsing U.S. Rubber exclusive AIR-GUARD Puncture sealing.

With the purchase of a set of New Tires or Recaps we will put AIR-GUARD in each tire for $1.25. Or have AIR-GUARD put in your present tires for only $8.95.

Nixon Says GOP Is Gaining Ground On Demos

Chicago (UPI) — Vice-President Richard M. Nixon told Midwest Republican leaders and candidates they are gaining ground on the Democrats becauase they are fighting harder for victory in the November elections.

Nixon got his 6-day campaign tour off to a rousing start at a speech before several hundred cheering GOP office-seekers and bigwigs.

Within the last 10 days, Nixon said, GOP campaigns have caught fire across the country.

"We're still the underdogs, but we can win," he said. "Our candidates are fighting harder now because we're behind, and that fighting will win for us."

Flies To Frisco

Following his pep talk, Nixon left by plane with his wife Pat, for San Francisco, where he will try to help gubernatorial candidate Sen. William L. Knowland and other GOP contenders in his home state of California.

Nixon assured the Republicans that "there never has been an election in which so much has been at stake in the last 3 weeks."

Two months ago, he conceded, those who predicted the GOP would lose 60 seats in Congress and 12 in the Senate "might have been pretty close to right." But now, he said, everything is breaking right for the Republicans.

"The American economy is on the boom again," he said, "and as it goes up, our chances go up. The only way it can continue to go up is to support the sound policies of the Eisenhower administration."

Abroad, Nixon said, the administration has succeeded in stopping the Communist advance without going to war.

"When you're dealing with an aggressor, the only sure way to keep the peace is to be firm," Nixon said. "As far as our policy is concerned, it has succeeded because we have kept the peace."

V. P. To Speak

Los Angeles (AP)—Vice President Nixon will speak Wednesday at the public unveiling of the X15 experimental rocket plane.

North American Aviation, builder of the needle nosed craft expected to take man to outer space, said others who will attend the ceremony include Assistant Secretary of Air Richard Horner, Assistant Secretary of Navy Garrison Norton, Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and Lt. Gen. Samuel Anderson, commander of Air Research and Development Command.

Nixon declared later in San Francisco the American people are not going to risk prosperity by increasing the strength of what he termed the radical wing of the Democratic party. He said there was a sharp upturn in Republican prospects throughout the country since his last visit here two weeks ago.

"The Democratic tide which was running for almost a year has reached its peak and is now melting away," he said.

Rome Trip Set

Warsaw (AP)—Poland's Communist press announced Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski would go to Rome for the election of a successor to Pope Pius XII.

This was the first official news.

It confirmed that no government opposition would be put in the way of his trip, which high government sources had previously revealed.

Hunt Death Traffic Fatality

A belated report of a Lincoln traffic fatality was made Tuesday by the State Accident Records Bureau.

Bureau head Robert Pease said the death of Burt W. Hunt, 52, of 636 So. 28th, who died Sept. 3, will be counted as a traffic death.

Mr. Hunt died several hours after the car he was driving was involved in a two-car accident at 21st and O. He did not tell police he was injured at that time.

But his physician said he believed Mr. Hunt's death resulted from a heart attack brought on by the shock of being in the accident.

Earlier a medical report had said the death did not result from the accident.

Mr. Hunt's car was involved in a collision with a car driven by Dale S. Weber, 24, of Sterling. Police said Mr. Hunt was attempting an improper left turn at the time.

Mr. Hunt's death boosts the Lincoln traffic toll to 4 for the year, compared with 3 last year at this time.

CAME THE DAWN--MORE NEWS

—without question this is an exceptionally busy week —at least for those members of a feminine sixsome who will be off and away to Syracuse, N.Y., New York City, New Hope, Pa., and all of the high spots in between.

On Thursday Mrs. Frank Boehmer, Mrs. P. Rolf Halligan, Mrs. Reginald Woodruff, Mrs. A. H. Kurtz, Mrs. E. U. Guenzel and Mrs. Stanley Guenzel will leave on the special plane for Syracuse, N.Y. where, of course, they will attend the Nebraska-Syracuse game. Following the game the group will leave for a leisurely bus trip that will show the countryside between Syracuse and New York City where, as part of the football expedition, they will do the theater and visit some of New York's high spots.

Four of the group, Mrs. Kurtz, Mrs. E. U. Guenzel, Mrs. Woodruff and Mrs. Stanley Guenzel will remain in New York all of next week, but Mrs. Boehmer and Mrs. Halligan will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Livingston Keplinger at Mr. and Mrs. Keplinger's Pennsylvania residence in New Hope. Mrs. Keplinger will be remembered as the former Martha Quiggle of Lincoln.

Mrs. Boehmer and Mrs. Halligan will remain in New Hope until Saturday, and then will join their traveling companions in New York — A week from Monday, we hear, is homecoming day.

—one of Lincoln's popular guests during the early October days was Mrs. Burton Whitmore of Santa Barbara, Calif., who, during her 10 day stay in Lincoln, was complimented with numerous courtesies.

Mrs. Whitmore left on Tuesday for Omaha where she spent the day with Mrs. Max Miller before plane-ing off for Chicago and a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Wedel. The real Chicago objective, however, was Mrs. Whitmore's very young grandson, Eric Whitmore Wedel.

—just learned that Mrs. Voyle Rector of South Pasadena, Calif., planed in Tuesday afternoon to spend some time as the guest of her mother, Mrs. I. G. Chapin, and to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Talbot — and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Chapin.

Dear Abby . . .

Grow Up, "Child"!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please don't throw this letter away thinking it's from a mixed-up school girl. I am a married woman of 34 and have three children and am very unhappy in my marriage. Just for the fun of it I called up a man who has a radio program. I fell in love with his voice. He doesn't know who I am and I want to keep it that way. Abby, just to hear his voice does something to me. In a few minutes of conversation with my secret lover I get all the warmth and happiness I've always wanted. He doesn't know how I feel about him and I would never tell him. I have made a scrap book of his pictures and write-ups. Could this be real love?

IN LOVE WITH A VOICE

DEAR IN: This is not love — it's "hero-worship." We have to live in a real world with real people. Come back to reality and direct some of that energy to your husband and children. They can reciprocate.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I take a trip in another state every summer. For the last two summers when I was gone, I got letters from my friends telling me that my husband has been seen around town with a very good looking blonde divorcee. My husband is a very friendly type and I never was jealous because he sees a lot of women for business reasons. This one bothers me more than the others. Do you think he is seeing her for business reasons?

ANNETTE

DEAR ANNETTE: It's possible. What's her business?

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: The letter from "Unpaid Seamstress" hit home with me. I was one of those women who couldn't say "NO" when my friends would ask me to "run up a seam" for them. I found myself sewing for friends so much I didn't have time for my own housework, so my husband told me that when a friend would ask me to sew I should say, "I'd love to, but there are six shirts and three dresses for you to iron, and also a little mending if you get time." I did—nobody has bothered me since.

ANOTHER SEAMSTRESS

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a swell fellow. We were planning on being married, but recently we've had to change our plans because he received a letter from a girl he met while he was still in the service. She says she is pregnant, and my boyfriend is the father and he had better hurry and do something about it because she isn't able to button her skirts any more. Abby, I am crazy about this fellow, and love him all the more because he was honest enough to tell me the truth about this girl. We hate to have to go to court about this matter, but he says the chances are 50-50 she is lying. Please give us some advice. Fast.

IN A JAM

DEAR IN: The only place you'll find a solution to this problem is in a lawyer's office. Go! Fast!

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: They say in Old Testament days Jewish mothers did not suffer the agonies of child-birth as Gentile mothers did because they were God's chosen people. I am wondering if this blessing still holds true today?

A GENTILE

DEAR GENTILE: I don't know where you got your information, but it wasn't from any Jewish mothers. Jewish mothers (along with Gentiles) go down "the same valley in the shadow of death" according to the Good Book.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO GOOD-LOOKING BUTCHER: If you didn't ask her if she was married you've got no beef!

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOIS AT THE JR. HIGH SCHOOL: The boy is "chicken" . . . don't egg him on.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

"We Knew We Were In New York When—"

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ada McVicker, and her husband Bill, wire editor of The Lincoln Star, are touring Europe. Here is her first article concerning their stop in New York City).

By Ada McVicker

We knew we were in New York . . .

When the girl slammed down the plate of dry toast and rasped "Djawantbutter?" with same tone we'd say "Whatsa matter with you anyway!" and when we looked up she was smiling pleasantly . . .

When we went to a great down town church where many races and several colors sat together in the velvet-cushioned pews and a prefect stranger took a lot of time to show us about and find the place in the hymnal for us . . .

When we went on the boat trip around Manhattan Island and there were people on board from Germany, France, Tasmania, South America, Haiti and naturally someone we knew from Lincoln. Carl Deitemeyer was aboard. He is piloting a group of 22 representing the Nebraska Wheat Growers Association on a mission to 9 European countries to promote sale of good Nebraska wheat through several international groups . . .

When we saw the rollicking movie "Damn Yankees" at the Roxy and the audience applauded when pleased (as people also do in Mexico City), and the loge seats were rocking chairs . . .

When we saw the Bird Walk group in Central Park and heard about the "Penthouse Garden Club" . . .

When we noticed men wearing berets in various eating places . . .

When we saw ship ways where an ocean liner is painted stem to stern in 24 hours; a lift that hoists fully-loaded freight cars to the top of a warehouse building; the harbor that is the largest seaport in the world into which streams two-thirds of the country's imports and out of which go 40% of its exports; the building where there's a new telephone that dials London, Paris and Bombay direct and another showing the picture of the person at the other end of wire; the Hoboken piers where Marlon Brando made "Waterfront"; the Colgate clock 60 feet in diameter and the Maxwell House cup that would hold 2 billion cups of coffee; "The Lady" in all her majesty, serene and gracious after welcoming so many millions of the "tired and wretched" since 1886 — made of 500 hammered copper plates and 300 feet high; the beautiful bridges and the air intakes of the several tunnels that bring the workers in to the island that holds 8 million people on work days and about 2 million residents; the district of printing and publishing which is the 2nd industry with only the garment industry larger; Battery Park where Peter Minuit gave the Indians $24 in trinkets for Manhattan island . . .

When we saw St. John's church which seats 8,000 people comfortably on Easter morning; an apartment building accommodating 600 families; Rockefeller Plaza which brings Columbia U $4 million a year; the beautiful, green palisades along the Hudson and old High Bridge where Edgar Allen Poe wrote "Annabelle Lee" . . .

We could hardly believe we were in New York when we saw the huge housing developments which have replaced so many former slum areas. Thinking of some polluted streams in Nebraska, we marvelled at a city of this size which burns its refuse in 7 incinerators and uses the residue for land fills like the one on which La Guardia airport stands. We hear so much of the troubles of underprivileged groups in New York. But Heaven help any enemy parachute group attempting to land in the forest of TV antennas atop Harlem!

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

There's nothing like living in the suburbs to fill your hours with minor emergencies and to force the residents to call upon their ingenuity just to keep the wheels of domestic life rolling smoothly—but our hat is off to the suburban father who has solved the problem of coralling the pre-schooler for meals. A member of the Lincoln Police Force, he simply blows his whistle and not only his own child, but all the neighbors', come a-running. There's something about a police whistle—

Husker Cagers Small, Inexperienced But Coach Bush Not Tossing In Towel

By Ron Speer

Small and inexperienced is a capsule summary of Nebraska's basketball team which opens practice this afternoon.

Only 3 lettermen are back — and the tallest man on the squad is a 6-6 shortie.

With facts like that staring a coach in the face, you would expect him to be wringing the crying towel.

But not Jerry Bush, Cornhusker cage coach who guided his team to the top two upsets of the year last spring with a team built on the same scale as this year's edition.

"We're short on height and experience," Bush admits cheerfully. "But our ball handling, our shooting and the intense desire to win our boys have this year may offset our handicaps."

Bush will open practice today with a 12-man squad. The lettermen are all juniors — Herschell Turner, Wayne Hester and Bob Harry.

Other squadmen back include Dick Shipwright of Pender, Bill Lundholm of Mt. Morris, Ill., and George Swank of Mansfield, O. Swank is a senior — the only one on the team — and the others are juniors.

Six untested sophomores complete the squad, and one of them brings a gleam to Bush's eye. He's Al Maxey, 6-3 jumping jack from Indianapolis.

Although Bush hasn't considered a starting lineup yet, Maxey is almost a cinch to crash the elite circle.

"Now you take boys Turner and Maxey," the genial Husker coach remarked Tuesday afternoon. "They are both only 6-3 or so, but they can pull down rebounds with any 6-6 player I know."

Turner, another Indianapolis native, is expected to be a big gun in the Nebraska attack this year. As a sophomore last year he led in rebounds and was a consistent scorer.

"We'll play an open post, and maybe press some on defense. Mainly we'll put up a defense that has been giving our opponents the most trouble," Bush said.

Asked if the Huskers would concentrate on control ball which toppled Kansas and K-State last year in the highlights of the season, Bush said: "No, we won't. I think a lot of teams we play this year will throw a zone defense at us — but if we can get a few points ahead it'll be okay with me if they stay in the zone.

"We've got some boys that can handle that ball."

Harry, York prepster who rounded into form late in the season as a sophomore a year ago, undoubtedly will hold down one of the guard slots. Hester, Northeast All-Stater, is a good shooter and broke up a couple of games last year with deadly accuracy from far out.

Sophomores who could break into the lineup include Jim Kowalke of Sioux City, Mel Harmon of Hebron, Elmer Walin of Lincoln High, Dean Prazak of Clarkson and John Cahill of Dakota City.

Bush picks Kansas State as the team to beat in the Big Eight this year. "They have good size and experience. Don't overlook Iowa State, though, and Colorado should be improved.

"Kansas will be good again — and they'll be able to play basketball with Wilt Chamberlain gone. Oklahoma and Oklahoma State are always tough." Oklahoma State is eligible to compete for the Big Eight basketball crown this season.

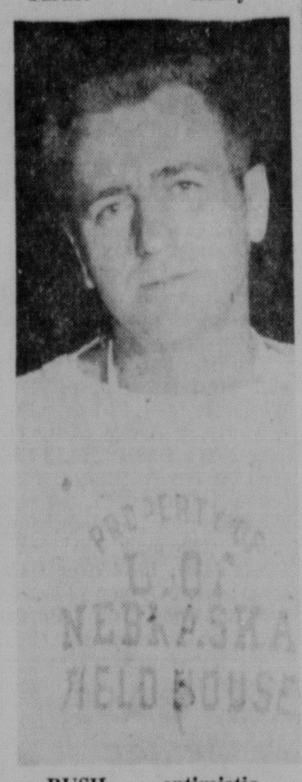
The Nebraska schedule:

Dec. 1 — Northwest Missouri; 6 — Montana Stae; 8—Marquette; 13—at Minnesota; 15 — Texas Tech; 18—at Bradley; 20—at Michigan State; 26-30—Big Eight Tourney at Kansas City.

Jan. 5—at Colorado; 10—Oklahoma State; 12—Missouri; 17—Iowa State; 31—Detroit.

Feb. 2—Kansas State; 7—at Oklahoma State; 9—at Oklahoma; 14—Kansas; 21—at Kansas; 23—Colorado; 28—at Iowa State.

Mar. 2.—at Missouri; 5—Oklahoma; 9—at Kansas State.



BUSH . . . optimistic.

Top-Rated Heavy Folley Decisioned

London (AP)—Henry Cooper, an unheralded cockney plasterer, Tuesday won an upset 10-round decision over Zora Folley, America's top ranking heavyweight contender.

It was another crushing blow to American boxing prestige. Folley became the 3rd leading Yank heavyweight to go down to defeat on this side of the Atlantic in a month.

Sweden's undefeated Ingemar Johansson started the trend when he knocked out California Eddie Machen, second ranked contender behind Folley, in the first round in Sweden, Sept. 14.

Then Willie Pastrano, of Miami Beach, the No. 3 contender, was stopped on cuts in the 5th round by Brian London in London, Sept. 30.

The defeat snapped Folley's unbeaten streak at 21. The 30-year-old six-footer from Chandler, Ariz., hadn't lost since Dec. 1, 1955 when he was stopped in the 5th round by young Jack Johnson. Folley drew with Machen last April when they were the two leading contenders.

Folley weighed 198¾, Cooper 189¼.

Blood gushed from a cut over Cooper's eye during the last two rounds and he could hardly see his opponent.

Wild cheering broke out when Cooper's arm was raised in triumph but there were boos, too, from the fans in Wembley's Indoor Arena.

Folley dropped his lighter and taller foe for a 7-count in the 3rd round with a hard right to the head.

The six-foot, two-inch Briton, who had been gashed over the eye in the second round, was clear-headed when he got off the canvas.

He came back strong in the 4th round and had Folley in trouble with left-handed blows.

Cooper kept his rally going in the 5th, 6th, and 7th rounds. He piled up points with left jabs which kept the American off balance, and drew blood from Folley's nose.

Folley, however, finished strongly. He caught Cooper with a half dozen right hand shots in the 9th and 10th rounds and looked stronger at the final bell.

English referees are sole judge of who wins and Referee Tommy Little quickly raised Cooper's hand.

Aggression pays off in English rings and Cooper was far more aggressive than Folley who several times midway in the fight appeared only a little interested.

Cooper, a 24-year-old curly haired Londoner from the Bellingham section, may have earned a title fight with world champion Floyd Patterson.

Harry Levene promoted the fight and he can command the exclusive use of the chamip in British rings.

Peru's Bookwalter Shares Point Lead

Kansas City (AP) — Buddy Bookwalter of Peru State is tied for the scoring leadership among National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) players, statistics released Tuesday showed.

Bookwalter has scored 66 points to tie Dale Giesler of Dubuque, Ia., for the national lead.

Other national leaders included Bob Johnson, Upper Iowa, total offense; Bob Webb, St. Ambrose, passing and Eddie Meador, Arkansas Poly, rushing.

Wichita Pilot Signed For '59

Wichita, Kan. (AP) — Signing of Ben Geraghty for another year as manager of the Wichita Braves, Triple-A farm in the Milwaukee Braves system, was announced by general manager Lynn Stone Tuesday.

Stone said it had not been decided whether Milwaukee's Triple-A, American Assn. franchise will operate in Wichita again in 1959. Club officials have expressed disappointment openly at attendance here.

Girl Leaves Home To Follow Kubek

Still Missing After Leaving To Watch Hero In Series

Indianapolis, Ind (UPI)—The parents of a pretty, well-behaved high school girl feared Tuesday she had run away from home to follow her "crush" on New York Yankee shortstop Tony Kubek.

Susan King, 15, has been missing since Oct. 7. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale King, said they believe she left to watch her hero help win the World Series in Milwaukee last week.

The girl's father took a leave of absence from his work so he could search for his girl in Chicago and Milwaukee.

King said he had thought Susan's crush on Kubek was no more serious than her earlier adoration for crooner Pat Boone and cowboy actor Hugh O'Brien.

Then he discovered that Susan, who kept Kubek's picture in her billfold, had lied to her teacher that she was sick so she could watch the World Series on television.

"I thought we had a well-adjusted home," King said. "We never have had any drastic arguments. Why, she'd even call and tell us if she was going to be delayed in getting home past the usual time.

"It's hard to realize that kids leave home every day. Other people's kids, maybe, but not our own daughter."

King was armed with a picture of Susan as he traveled what he thought was the most likely route she could have taken. He talked with police in Chicago, Milwaukee and Indianapolis and contacted the FBI. But to them it was an old story.

An Indianapolis-to-Chicago bus driver said he believed Susan was a passenger on his morning run north Oct. 7. A matron in a bus station at Milwaukee said she thought she might have seen the girl in her navy blue blazer and red and blue plaid skirt.

"It's so easy to be mistaken," said King.

DUREN: I'LL PAY IT WITH A SMILE

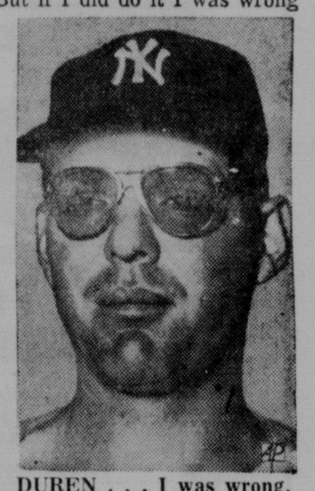
San Antonio, Tex. (AP)—"I'll pay it with a big smile and just be happy that we won," pitcher Ryne Duren of the New York Yankees said Tuesday of the $250 fine slapped on him by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick for a "choke up" gesture made at Umpire Charlie Berry during the 6th game of the World Series.

"I honestly don't remember making such a gesture," the relief specialist and the winning pitcher in the 6th game at Milwaukee, added. "But if I did do it I was wrong and deserve to be fined."

Duren said he had not made a personal apology to Berry.

"I contacted Berry through a friend who works in the commissioner's office and asked that he relay my apology," the pitcher said. "That was the day of the game."

Duren was quoted after the 6th game as saying that he didn't remember having made a "choke-up" gesture at Berry after the plate umpire had called a 4th ball on a pitch to Johnny Logan, Milwaukee shortstop, that both Duren and his catcher, Yogi Berra, thought should have been a called 3rd strike.



DUREN . . . I was wrong.

It was charged that Duren had put his hand to his throat in the tradition "choke-up" gesture after an argument with Berry at the plate. Berry said he did not see the gesture because his view was obscured by Berra. However, two other umpires said they saw it and asked that Berry report it to the commissioner.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

When California finally got on the winning track by upsetting Washington State, Pete Elliott—former fair-haired boy at Nebraska—made a decision.

"From now on we're going to go for two points after every touchdown," Pete said. "The potential is great. Two points are better than one, and even if you miss sometimes, you can make it up by succeeding on later tries."

Elliott kept his word last week against Utah. The Golden Bears scored 5 touchdowns and went for a two-pointer after each TD. They succeeded 3 times, twice by passes and once by a plunge. Result was a 36-21 victory.

Cal's last two wins—after a miserable start, including a flopperoo against College of Pacific—may take some of the heat off Elliott.

But the wolves around Berkeley are howling and they may hit High C, if the Bears pull a skidoo in PCC (what's left of it, anyway) action. Cal starts a tough road this week against USC and then comes Oregon, Oregon State, UCLA, Washington and Stanford.

Looks like the Western League is really staging the "Dying Swan" routine this year.

The White Sox kiss-off of Colorado Springs is a forerunner of things to come.

It's no secret that the major league boys—minor league masters, that is—are cool toward the ridiculous travel set up and poor attendance in the WL. They don't figure it's worth messing with, so they'll look elsewhere for cities to park their Class A talent.

At the moment, only Lincolu and Pueblo have firm working agreement committments for 1959. And, of course, they're contingent on the league operating.

Just how long, the Pirates and Chicago Cubs will stick with Lincoln and Pueblo is debatable. But they've got to know the WL status before long so that they can make plans for their farm talent.

Best guess is that the majors have decided to pull the rug out from under the Western, in regard to working agreements, and that means the WL is kaput. None of the clubs have been able to make it financially WITH working agreements and it's a cinch none will try to operate without them.

Can't be too critical of the majors for their dislike of WL setup unless it's for their lack of efforts to realign and their theft of Denver and Omaha.

The majors have taken little interest in the survival of the minors, but the minors haven't shown much foresight, either.

Some WL quarters must take responsibility for the league's blind staggers. Most of the league officials have only a nodding acquaintance with reality, preferring to struggle along, uttering platitudes, rather than do something constructive.

This "we can go forever even though we're losing money by the barrels" philosophy is catching up with the Western now. By refusing to revamp the league, or to oust the weak sisters when the opportunities were present, the WL has given the major leagues cause for abandonment.

When the majors withdraw their support—which they are doing—with the explanation, "The WL is a lousy league, attendance-wise and geographically," the Western League can't put up much of an argument.

GEESE TOP TARGET FOR SHOOTERS

One of the best targets for Nebraska hunters during the past week turned out to be geese, the State game Commission reported Tuesday.

The commission said reports from the Lyons area indicated goose hunting was excellent. The area was reportedly supplying mostly blue and snow geese, some white front and leffer Canada geese.

Reports from Gavins Point indicated good concentrations of geese, especially small Canada, snow and blue geese.

Reservoir hunting also was reported as good, especially in the Sutherland Reservoir and in parts of the North Platte River. Mallard ducks also were moving onto the river.

Teal, mallard and canvas back ducks, along with some geese, were moving onto Johnson Lake.

Lake McConaughy hunters were said to be getting their limits and that "many" mallards were moving onto the lake.

The duck population throughout the central Sand Hills area was reported as good, with a large count reported in the Hyannis and Ashby area.

Untested NU Players May Carry Load

By Don Bryant

Untested performers may have to help carry the load for the Nebraska Cornhuskers at Syracuse Saturday.

Coach Bill Jennings risked a little contact work Tuesday afternoon and the injury-riddled Huskers had green hands running with the No. 2 unit.

With alternate fullback Carroll Zaruba likely to miss the Syracuse game because of a knee injury, Lee Bigelow, 160-pound Omaha soph, moved into the No. 2 job behind Capt. Dick McCashland.

There's a problem at right end, too. Regular Roland McDole is still nursing a K-State wound and skipped Tuesday's drill. He's expected to be able to go Saturday, but if he can't Guy Sapp, Lincoln senior, and John Bond, soph from Missouri Valley, Ia., will fill the gap.

Sapp has seen considerable action with the alternates this fall.

The Huskers will leave Lincoln Friday morning at 3:30 by chartered airliner for Syracuse.

Jennings said he would probably take a 36-man squad

PRO CAGERS TO TEST NEW RULE

New York (AP) — The National Basketball Assn. will have two new rules in effect when the Detroit Pistons open the league season against the Nationals at Syracuse Sunday in a nationally televised (NBC) game at 12:30 p.m. CST.

One is a permanent rule. The other will be used on a trial basis for one month.

The permanent ruling:

"On all double fouls a personal foul is charged to each man and play is resumed by a jump ball at center between the centers of the respective teams. If a dispute arises as to who is a center of a team it shall be resolved by the referees."

The trial rule:

"All personal fouls by players of the offensive team, while such team is in clear control of the ball, up to and including the 6th team foul per quarter or up to and including the 3rd team foul of an overtime period, shall be penalized as follows viz:

"A personal foul shall be charged against the offensive team player and the ball shall be given to the opposing team out of bounds at a point nearest to where the foul occurred. The official must handle the ball before it is put into play.

"When the personal foul by the offensive team is the 7th or larger numbered foul in the regulation quarter or the 4th or larger numbered foul in an overtime period, the penalty is the same as on any other personal foul and the fouled team shall take the required number of shots.

"When the ball is in the air on a try for goal or a team loses possession or players are fighting for a loose ball, the regular procedure governing personal fouls is in order as neither team is in clear control of the ball."

Ned Irish Gives $500 To Stokes

Cincinnati (AP) — Tom Grace, executive vice president of the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Assn., said Tuesday Ned Irish has contributed $500 to the Maurice Stokes fund. His contribution was in the name of the New York Knickerbockers and Madison Square Garden.

The fund is being raised for Stokes, one of the top NBA stars, who has been hospitalized since last March with encephalitis. Physicians are unable to say how long it will be before Stokes will be able to be active again although he has shown indications of slow recovery.

QUARTERBACKS, BASS TOP TOTAL OFFENSE

By The Associated Press

Three senior quarterbacks from the South and a record-threatening runner from the Pacific Coast are the 4 top groundgainers in major college football as the season nears the midway point.

Statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau list Bill Holsclaw of Virginia Tech, Dick Bass of College of the Pacific, Reece Whitley of Virginia and Dick Longfellow of West Virginia in the 4 top places in total offense.

Bass, who has played only 3 games, one less than the other leaders, leads in rushing by a huge margin over his nearest rival and Bob Newman of Washington State, last year's total offense champ, is out ahead in forward passing.

ALMA SPEEDSTER IS STAR OF WEEK

By Al Beebe

It's tough to be on a long winning streak. Every team you meet, the opponent is out to break that skein. Alma kept its long unbeaten mark intact last week against probably its toughest foe, Cambridge.

The win was accomplished 24-21 on a 55-yard punt return by John Christlieb, who earns this week's "Football Player of the Week" award for The Star.

Christlieb scored twice as each team scored 3 TD's, but Cambridge made the extra points for a 21-18 lead. Then Christlieb got loose for his long run on the only punt by either team in the game. That was the dfiference.

Christlieb, and these other top performers from last week, will receive cards from The Star.

Haigler—Eugene Schwartz scored 19 points to lead Haigler to its first win in 12 starts, beating Norcatur, Kan., 25-20.

Central City—Roger Roscoe's 4-TD splurge smashed Albion, 32-7.

Dupas, Gil Turner In TV Bout Tonight

Montreal (AP) — Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, covering up from Montreal's cold autumn winds and short with his Cajun French in this bilingual city, wound up training Tuesday for his all-important welterweight match with Gil Turner.

The two meet tonight in a 10-rounder which will be telecast coast-to-coast in the U.S. Both Dupas and the Philadelphian hope for a crack at the welter title held by Virgil Akins. Dupas is the 7-5 favorite.

Dupas has been climbing up the welter scale after a setback at the hands of lightweight champion Joe Brown in a title fight last May. Dupas weighed 134 for Brown.

"I lost too much weight for that bout," said Dupas, who is ranked No. 6 in the welterweight division. "I fight my best at about 143 and that was my weight yesterday when I worked out.

"I like to fight about once a month so I can keep in shape. I'll be about 143 for the Wednesday weigh-in."

Turner, ranked No. 3, arrived in Montreal Sunday night, two days before Dupas, and quickly set to work to complete his training.

Turner will carry a weight advantage of around 7 pounds.

"I'm setting out for New Orleans right after the fight," said Dupas. "I've got me a coat here but it's still pretty chilly.

"I've been amused by people talking to me in French. I can understand a good bit but sometimes I'm stuck. My own French isn't so hot, either. But the French they speak here sounds different.

"The folks here pronounce my name Du-Pah. Of course I call it the English pronounciation, Du-Pass. It's all kind of funny. I have been sparring with a French-speaking fellow, too."

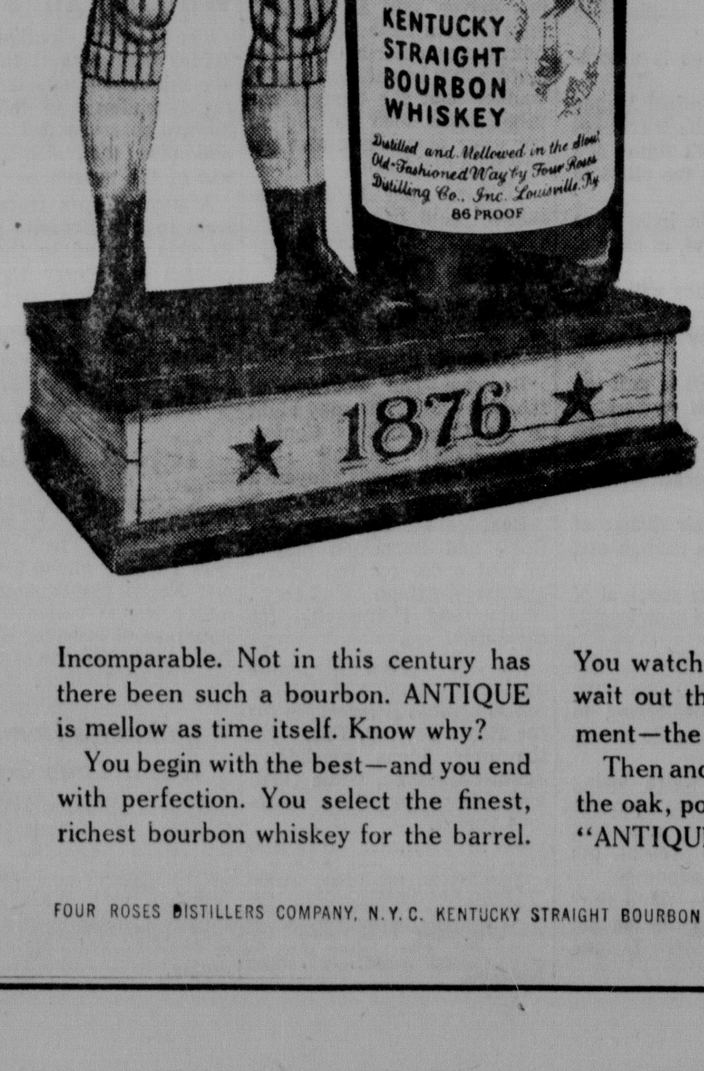
Four Roses
ANTIQUE
Kentucky Straight Bourbon



Bare Knuckle Fighter

Some fights in the 1870's went well over a hundred rounds. Portraits of famous fighters were carved in prized wood sculptures like this. ANTIQUE Bourbon is made with the same old-time craftsmanship.

That old-time flavor is back!

Incomparable. Not in this century has there been such a bourbon. ANTIQUE is mellow as time itself. Know why?

You begin with the best—and you end with perfection. You select the finest, richest bourbon whiskey for the barrel. You watch over it day and night. You wait out the years for one golden moment—the moment of maturity.

Then and only then do you take it from the oak, pour it into bottles and label it "ANTIQUE." Incomparable.

Proposed Metropolitan League Appears To Be Only Memory

Omaha (UPI) —The Metropolitan League, a scheme to toss the major schools in Omaha and Lincoln into a single athletic conference, is only an apparently unmourned memory.

A little more than a year ago, a series of meetings of Lincoln and Omaha public school officials on the proposal stirred up a lot of interest. But the meetings led nowhere and officials of both school systems said Tuesday they have no plans for new discussions on the subject.

Lincoln School Supt. Steven Watkins said he has not heard any comment about the proposal since the meetings last year. And Owen Knutzen, assistant superintendent of the Omaha schools, said he had not even thought about the league since 1957.

There was considerable speculation last year that the new league, if it were organized, would put the venerable Intercity League, which has served Omaha and Council Bluffs schools for years, out of business.

But Knutzen said then, after a strict "closed door" news policy had left observers to predict the death of the Intercity League, that the Metro loop would coexist with the Intercity circuit.

The Metropolitan League would have included North, South, Benson, Tech, Central and Creighton Prep from Omaha and Northeast, Southeast and Lincoln High from the Capital City.

Asked if he foresaw any increase in scheduling between metropolitan teams now even if no league is formed, Knutzen said Tuesday that would be up to the individual schools.

IRISH EYE NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Chicago (AP) — Notre Dame is interested in a new coast-to-coast conference which now is in the talking stage, Football Coach Terry Brennan said Tuesday.

Brennan

Brennan was one of several coaches speaking to the Chicago Football Writer's Assn. by phone from his home base.

"We are interested, but the conference is not yet a reality," he said. "There are many details to be ironed out, such as scholastic requirements, athletic policy, etc. There have been discussions but no decisions. We already have scheduled many of the schools interested in the so-called airplane conference."

Formation of such a conference has been bandied about for the last 6 months or more. Mentioned among the potential members are Army, Navy, Pitt, Notre Dame, UCLA and Southern California.

Nebraska freshman basketball practice begins at 4 p.m. today on the frosh court in the Coliseum. Frosh Coach Tony Sharpe has invited all candidates to the practices.

This year's frosh team has been given the go-ahead to play 4 games. A tentative slate includes Iowa State frosh, Fairbury JC and two other games. In the past freshmen have not been allowed to compete against other schools, but the Big Eight changed the rule last winter.

Iowa State won a quadrangular meet last weekend from Oklahoma, Colorado and Oklahoma Baptist over the Ames course.

Notre Dame Claims '58 Cadets Best Ever

By The AP

Swift, imaginative Army assumed the role as No. 1 college football team in the country today and posed a king-sized question mark:

Is the present team equal to the Doc Blanchard-Glenn Davis wrecking machines of 1944 and 1945?

"Definitely superior to the Blanchard-Davis teams," said Edward Krause, Notre Dame athletic director who saw the Cadets whip the Irish last week-end 14-2.

Blaik himself, in his silver anniversary as a head coach, was more reserved in his immediate judgment.

"I never make a comparison of teams until the season's end," he said. "I can say this is one of the most spirited squads I have ever coached. And it has wonderful leadership."

Of his newly-gained No. 1 ranking, the first for Army since the unbeaten wartime teams of 1944-45, the Army colonel said:

"Naturally I am happy over the honor. But I would be pleased whether we are No. 1 or No. 10 so long as we are winning."

The top 10, based on 10 points for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc (first place votes and season records in parentheses):

1. Army	(77) (3-0)	1,611
2. Auburn	(54) (3-0)	1,431
3. Ohio State	(9) (3-0)	1,087
4. Wisconsin	(16) (3-0)	1,077
5. Michigan State	(4) (2-0-1)	733
6. Navy	(1) (3-0)	706

8. Mississippi	(2) (4-0)	652
9. Louisiana State	(2) (4-0)	456
10. Clemson	(7) (4-0)	404

Auditorium Manager Jewell Makes Several Long-Range Suggestions To Council, Advisors

By Virgil Falloon

Several long-range suggestions for the Pershing Municipal Auditorium have been offered by Don Jewell, auditorium manager who leaves Nov. 1 to accept an Oregon post.

These were contained in a memorandum report made to the City Council and Auditorium Advisory Committee.

The suggestions were:

—Continued encouragement of parking facilities immediately near the building.

—Increased use of the auditorium facilities by local firms and organizations.

—Development of an improved catering program.

—Adoption of equitable rental fee structures by tax-supported institutions offering competing facilities.

In the report marking the close of the first complete fiscal year, Sept. 1, 1957, to Aug. 31, 1958, Jewell said the building hosted more than 227 events, including public skating, for 269 active days.

244,340

The report showed 244,340 people were attracted to the auditorium during the fiscal year, including 29,754 ice skaters.

Jewell said the 1958-59 season appears nearly assured of sufficient rental contracts to assure the budget estimate provided normal income from percentage-type contracts is received.

He said the physical plant is "appreciably improved" and current inventories are "also higher."

The 1959 fiscal year may indicate whether the auditorium can continue its operation without tax support, but he adds: "The outlook is good—although some curtailment of planned improved programs may be necessary should economic conditions decrease anticipated receipts."

Support Better

Jewell reported an apparent gradual but steady increase in local "acceptance" of the facilities, but said "careful thought" should be given to the 1960 season as the long-range outlook "indicates some annual events may be discontinued because of lack of interest and support."

Using the auditorium's estimated convention attendance of 18,143, Jewell said $453,575 should have been brought into the community based on national estimates of convention delegate expenditures.

Jewell noted that summer ice skating again operated at a deficit.

"Income dropped even lower in 1957," he said. "The loss was $3,897 above operating costs."

In effect, he said, it cost the city $3,897 more to operate the building than had it remained idle.

A successful program would prove the key to avoiding a "dark" auditorium for at least 3 months per year, but the problem is "how to make summer skating financially successful."

Reported breakdown of building usage by events:

Industrial Zoning Hearing Oct. 28

A revised zoning proposal for a 43-acre tract of land near Emerald was set for an Oct. 28 public hearing before the Lancaster County Board.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Piening, owners of the land located one-half mile east of Emerald, want the tract rezoned from agricultural to industrial use.

Earlier the Pienings had requested an "industrial area" designation for the land, which would have prohibited it from future annexation by a city or village.

A Wichita, Kan., firm is reportedly considering constructing grain storage facilities on the land.

$60,000 Antelope Creek Bridge At 40th Approved

The City Council Monday approved plans for a $60,000 bridge over Antelope Creek at 40th but tabled for one week a proposed $5,500 project for asphalting the Antelope Zoo parking area.

Noting that the park project originally was budgeted for $3,500, several Council members questioned where the additional $2,000 would be obtained.

Welfare Director Emmett Junge said he believed the extra money could be squeezed from park department capital outlay funds but that Park Supt. James Ager should answer the question upon his return from a business trip.

The Council expressed interest in what items might be squeezed out if the paving project were approved.

Good—Not Deluxe

City Engineer Carl Fisher said the $5,500 estimate represented a "good, but not a deluxe, asphalt job" and included needed preparatory work.

The original $3,500 estimate made at budget hearings was reportedly obtained from a private contractor by the park department.

Included in the overall project are two crushed-rock parking lots in Antelope Park to replace those eliminated by construction of the Southeast Diagonal.

Fisher said the estimated $7,700 cost of the latter would come from gas tax funds as proper replacement of those lost by park department.

The proposed Antelope Creek bridge, which would be paid from the 1954 storm sewer bond issue, is estimated as $60,000 for a prestressed, concrete deck structure.

The project would bring to $423,929 the improvements okayed under the remaining $777,415 in the $3.5 million bond issue. Bids on the bridge project were called for Oct. 29 with completion expected around March 1, 1959.

Shots Approved

The Council approved optional Asian Flu shots for 750 city employes.

Council action on ordinances was:

Introduced, 1st Reading

—Paving district for Kearney from 68th to 70th.

—Water district for Burlington Ave from 72nd to 73rd, Platte and Havelock from 73rd east to city limits and 73rd from Havelock to Burlington.

Passed, 3rd Reading

—Water District 484 being 70th from Vine to Y, X and Y from 70th to 353 feet east, and 70th to 353 feet east of 70th.

All Council members were present for the regular meeting and morning session except Kenneth Lewis, who was excused for another meeting.

33rd & A Firms Agree To Detours

A traffic access plan to 33rd and A business firms during construction of a new storm sewer has been worked out, City Engineer Carl Fisher reported to the City Council.

The Council complimented Fisher on his meeting with the affected merchants as "creating good will" for the city.

To minimize business disruption, Fisher said the 33rd section would be started and completed before the A street work is undertaken.

He said the A street work would be done a block at a time for the least amount of traffic disruption and containment of the construction area.

Pentagon Orders 2 Thor Rockets

...For Future Space Probes

Washington (UPI) — The Defense Department has ordered two more of the Air Force's successful Thor-Able rockets for launching future space vehicles, officials said.

The rockets, a counterpart of the missile that launched last Saturday's moon probe, could be used for exploratory trips to the vicinity of Venus or Mars. However, a Defense Department spokesman said no definite plans yet had been made for them.

The rockets were bought several months ago by the Defense Department's advanced research projects agency. One official said the government wanted them on hand because it takes longer to get the rocket ready for a flight than the "payload."

The rockets could be used in last Saturday's moon probe is capable of developing a thrust of 170,000 pounds. It carried the lunar rocket to an altitude of more than 79,000 miles but fell short of this planet's natural satellite because of guidance errors.

Correcting errors

The Air Force is now at work correcting these errors in preparation for another lunar probe next month, or possibly December.

Under a sweeping space program published by the White House several months ago, an attempt to reach the nearer planets would follow the lunar probes and efforts to put a television reconnaissance satellite in orbit around the earth.

Venus is the nearest planet to the earth, 67,000,000 miles at its closest approach. This is vastly farther than the moon but the distance does not require a comparable increase in rocket power.

Only a little more push would be required to send a rocket to Venus than to put it in the vicinity of the moon.

Burke Says Red Accord Temporary

New London, Conn. (AP) — Adm. Arleigh Burke said Tuesday night any settlement made by the Communists is a temporary mater designed to pave the way for retreats by the free world.

"There is not the slightest doubt in the minds of the Kremlin leaders that freedom, that western civilization and all that men stand for, must be replaced with communism," said Burke, chief of naval operations.

In a speech at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, Burke said the Reds will not compromise with this cornerstone of their doctrine, and he added:

"Any settlement which a Communist makes, on any point, anywhere, for anything, is for him only a temporary matter. It merely forms the base upon which he will create further issues to secure more compromises in his favor."

Vital To Unity

The nation's top ranking naval officer said the sea is vital to free world unity, which he called the greatest bulwark against communism.

"The free world is an oceanic confederation held together by the bonds of the sea, made secure through seapower," he said. Burke said new scientific discoveries never have and will not make the Navy obsolete.

The admiral said "The Soviets are well aware of the importance of the American 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean — and the 7th Fleet in the Far East."

State Lists Encephalitis, 3 Polio Cases

Three cases of polio and one case of encephalitis (sleeping sickness) were registered with the State Health Department this past week.

The Department said Tuesday that non-paralytic polio cases were reported from Grand Island and Kimball. A third case involved a 20-year old woman awaiting results of virus tests given by a Lincoln physician.

The new cases bring to 25 the number of polio cases reported this year compared with 74 at this time last year.

A non-laboratory tested case of sleeping sickness was reported from Norfolk in Madison County, bringing to 26 the number of encephalitis cases registered this year, against 6 at this time last year.

One new rabies case was reported, that of Otto Benner of Lincoln, who was bitten by a cat last week end. Benner is now undergoing treatment as the 25th case this year compared with 37 last year at this time.

'58 Harvest Volume Over Nebraska Is Running 21% Over Record Mark

Nebraska's harvest volume this year is topping the all-time previous high by 21%, government crop observers reported Tuesday.

The old record was set only last year.

Compared with the 1947-49 average, the total volume of crop production in Nebraska this year is 54% higher, according to the monthly crop review of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Record high yields per acre have been set this year for corn, winter wheat, sorghum grain, soybeans and rye.

Favorable ripening weather during September raised the estimates on sorghums and maintained the prospects of record high yields per acre on corn and soybeans.

The Oct. 1 estimate on corn, unchanged from the previous month, was a near record 285 million bushels, based on a 52 bushel yield per acre, by far the highest ever attained in the state.

Sorghum grain production is indicated at 78,399,000 bushels, compared with last year's record 77,337,000 bushels. The 46.5 bushel yield per acre marks an all-time high.

Production of the 4 feed grains—corn, sorghum, oats and barley—is calculated at 11,200,000 tons, well above the old record of 9,400,000 tons harvested in 1927.

Soybeans and sugar beets held their own during September but dry bean prospects declined 50 pounds per acre and prospects for fall potatoes sagged because of blight.

Production of all hay in Nebraska is estimated at 7,700,000 tons, second largest of record. Last year's 8 million tons represent a record.

Phenomenal Yields Of Corn, Milo Harvest Are Reported

Early reports from the accelerating corn and milo harvest tell of some phenomenal yields in Nebraska, government crop observers reported.

Ideal ripening weather has spurred the ingathering and a peak should be reached in the next week or so, according to the weekly crop report of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Harvest of corn and sorghum is fairly general in central and northern portions of the state and is gaining momentum elsewhere, the division said.

By last week end 85% of corn was mature with the remaining 15% in the hard dent stage. Some southern Nebraska areas could use a hard frost to aid drying and harvest.

Farmers with mechanical drying equipment have been making rapid progress but moisture content of both corn and sorghums is fast approaching a safe storage point.

High winds last week caused some ears to drop in fields damaged by corn borers. But the milo crop was standing up well in contrast to the widespread lodging of last year.

All Wheat Planted

Nearly all of the winter wheat crop has been planted.

Nebraska News

Dry surface soil delayed seeding in central and south central counties.

In some areas, wheat stands are uneven due to failure of some seed to sprout or due to varied germination. A good general rain is needed in all but southeastern Nebraska.

Sales of feeder cattle and calves continue to increase seasonally, the division said.

"While some feeders are reluctant to buy at current prices, local sales are well attended and offerings have been moving at attractive prices to producers," the report noted.

Cattle on feed are making good gains and production rates for milk and eggs are running ahead of last year.

Hospital Advisory Council May Change Federal Aid Distribution

The State Hospital Advisory Council is considering a complete revision of procedures for distributing federal Hill-Burton hospital construction funds in Nebraska, a State Health Department official disclosed Tuesday.

Vern Pangborn, state hospital director, said the council is considering dropping for Nebraska use one of the federal categories under which communities may apply for Hill-Burton matching funds.

Under the current system, the state recognizes three general catagories of hospital construction: Rural hospitals, urban medical centers, and intermedfate medical centers, or area medical centers.

It has been proposed, Pangborn said, to drop the intermediate, or area medical center category, "because of the apparent lack of need for these facilities in Nebraska."

Pangborn said the council along with the Nebraska State Medical Society, has learned that medical specialists located primarily in Omaha, Lincoln, North Platte, Hastings and Scottsbluff are visiting rural community hospitals on a consulting basis.

"This is a revolution in medical treatment," Pangborn said. "It's something nobody ever expected."

Pangborn said it had previously been assumed that out-state persons in need of specialized medical care would go to the larger cities for treatment, especially to Omaha or Lincoln.

However, this is not proving to be the case in Nebraska.

Pangborn said this development apparently makes it possible to consider developing only urban medical centers, in Lincoln and Omaha, and community hospitals throughout the state.

AirNavigation Aids Slated At 4 Towns

State Aeronautics Director Rolland Harr said Tuesday 4 Nebraska communities are slated to receive low frequency navigational aid equipment within the near future.

Harr said the so-called "H" facility would be installed at Valentine's municipal airport within the next few weeks, and that similar installations are scheduled for the near future at Hastings, Columbus and Imperial.

Harr said he believes Nebraska has become the first state in the nation to have state own3d and operated terminal high frequency visual omni range aid equipment, certified under the "stringent" federal requirements.

Harr said that when the department learned Frontier Airlines would begin local service over its northern Nebraska route, it went into an almost round the clock schedule to prepare both the Ainsworth and Norfolk omniranges for Civil Aeronautics Administration flight and ground testing.

Both Norfolk and Ainsworth VORs have been approved for use by Frontier, and as soon as air traffic separation requirements are determined, these state-owned facilities are expected to be certified for general aviation use.

This program has enabled Frontier to commence operation with a full complement of approach and let-down facilities at its scheduled stops.

Weaver Eyes Tax Laws For Self-Employed

Falls City, Neb. (AP) —Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Net) of Falls City wants to see the tax laws re-examined as they apply to the self-employed.

He said business institutions for years have benefitted from tax deductions allowed on pension programs for their officers and employes but the self-employed do not enjoy these privileges.

A measure known as the Jenkins-Keogh bill was introduced in the 85th Congress to remedy this situation, Weaver said, but it died in the Senate. He said it would have top priority in the next Congress.

Base Airman Electrocuted When Crane Hits Wire

A.3c Ira X. Moss, 20, 1636 K, was electrocuted Tuesday morning as he was guiding pipes from a crane to a flatbed truck near the west gate of the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Moss

The crane, operated by Wilber Hoppe, a civil service employee, came in contact with a high voltage wire, while Moss was standing on the ground.

Hoppe and Airman Billy Light, who was on the truck at the time, were uninjured since neither the truck nor the crane were grounded.

The accident which occurred about 8:30 a.m. kept the base without lights for several hours, officials said.

Moss is survived by his wife, Marie Catherine, of Lincoln and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil I. Moss of Star Route, Payette, Idaho.

Harrison Knocks Labor's Support Of Demo Brock

Norfolk, Neb. (AP) — Rep. R. D. Harrison (R-Neb) said Tuesday "the bosses of organized labor are throwing everything they can into my opponent's campaign."

Harrison, who retained his seat by a narrow margin in a race with Lawrence Brock of Wakefield two years ago, said everything indicates the labor forces are helping Brock "to a greater extent than they did two years ago."

"My opponent can no longer expect to fool the voters as to his labor boss backing," Harrison declared in a statement. "I actually believe that his labor endorsement will lose him votes, not only among farmers, small business and consumers of the 3rd district, but among union members themselves who are so tired of the domination of their union bosses."

He also accused Brock of inventing issues "that have more significance in Idaho or Tennessee than they have in Nebraska."

Harrison said "only two of the 531 members of Congress have a better voting record for government economy than I do. And I have supported REA projects in Nebraska 100% . . ."

Arson Suspected In Explosion, Fire

Gasoline Cans Found In Ruins Of Building Housing Restaurant

Fort Calhoun, Neb. (AP)—Jim and Alma's restaurant, well known Fort Calhoun eating place, was destroyed by explosion and fire early Tuesday. Arson was suspected.

Washington County Attorney Roy Anderson said several 5-gallon gasoline cans were recovered at the ruins. He said from the information obtained by a state fire marshal's representative "we are of the opinion it is arson" but he added there was no information or evidence pointing to any specific person."

The building was a total loss less than two hours after the two blasts shook the town.

Fire Chief Richard Sievers said the village was shaken first by a thud and then a very loud blast and moments later the entire front of the restaurant was in flames. He said the fire was "completely out of control" when firemen arrived.

The place was closed on Mondays and no one was known to have been in the place at the time. The janitor left about 5 p.m. Monday, nearly 12 hours before the blasts Sievers said.

Anderson, Sheriff Rudy Fick and a representative of the Nebraska fire marshal's office were sifting the ruins Tuesday seeking evidence.

The restaurant, 9 miles north of Omaha was owned by Jim and Alma Lombardo. It was operated by Mrs. Lombardo and two of Lombardo's brothers. Lombardo has been running a restaurant at Crescent, Ia.

GOP Caravan Campaigning In Sandhills

Ogallala, Neb. (AP) — A crowd of 72 persons heard the Republican campaign caravan in Ogallala Tuesday. Gov. Victor Anderson and Sen. Carl Curtis spoke.

GOP State Chairman Richard Spelts was introduced by Keith County Republican Chairman Melvin Adams of Brule. Spelts in turn introduced the members of the caravan.

Anderson emphasized that Nebraska had the second lowest tax per capita in the 49 states to support state government. He also said under his administration the state's highway program was making progress. He reiterated an earlier campaign statement that since he had been in office he has not built any "political roads."

Curtis talked of his experiences on the Seate labor racketeering committee. He reminded citizens to remember that the committee was dealing with a minority of union men and union leaders and that there is nothing wrong with the rank and file of union organizations.

He told the audience "we are headed for a gangster economy in this country unless the rule of labor racketeers is broken." He declared "the reason I am out in Nebraska is to urge the people of this state to stand back of these men (Sen. Roman Hruska and Rep. A. L. Miller) who have stood up and opposed the labor goons."

Hruska At Alliance

Hruska was not with the caravan at Ogallala. He was in Alliance addressing a meeting of the Nebraska Panhandle County Officials Assn.

Earlier Tuesday Sen. Curtis told an audience at Arnold that "Nebraska leads all other states in the work being done in reference to our natural resources."

He credited the Republicans in Congress with helping get an atomic power plant for Nebraska, with important advances in rural electrification and with obtaining the REA loan for the new Lexington power plant. "The largest REA loan in the nation."

Some 1,200 persons greeted the caravan during 4 stops in the Sand Hills Tuesday morning.

Missing Boy, Sister Found

Omaha (AP) — A 10-year-old boy and his 9-year-old sister, missing 24 hours, were found at noon Tuesday in a feedlot at the southwest outskirts of Omaha.

Jimmy and Ann Schmitt spent the night in a cornfield adjacent to Papio Creek.

Douglas County authorities made an all-night search for the children, son and daughter of James A. Schmitt with whom they live, and Mrs. Edward Elker, Omaha.

G. L. Waltz, who owns the feedlot, was riding a horse in an adjoining field when he saw cattle in the lot stirring. He investigated and found the children.

Sheriff's Capt. R. H. Walter said Jimmy and Ann were none the worse for their adventure.

Burglars Enter 3 Places At Norfolk

Norfolk, Neb. (AP) — Three Norfolk business places were burglarized.

Several hundred dollars was stolen from the Joyce Lumber Co. safe, $24.35 from Lookers Inc., and nothing was reported missing at Cobb Motors.

Mr. Lind died in an Oakland, Neb., hospital of injuries suffered in a collision between a corn picker he was driving on Highway 77 and a truck.

The crash occured two miles north of Uehling Saturday while Mr. Lind was driving the picker from Burt County to his home in Saunders County.

Safety Patrolman L. E. Thompson said both the corn picker and a semi-trailer truck driven by Wayne E. Sanow, 36, Marcus, Ia., were southbound. He quoted Sanow as saying he reached for some gum and looked up to find his truck bearing down on the corn picker. He said he swerved the truck but was unable to avoid a collision.

Sanow suffered only bruises, but William G. Schneider, 42, Alton, Ia., a passenger in the truck, suffered a broken arm.

Psychiatric Exam To Be Requested For Omaha Youth

Omaha (AP)—A psychiatric examination will be asked for 16-year-old William Leslie Arnold, charged with the murder of his parents.

Sheppard Taylor, attorney for the youth, made this announcement when the two first degree murder warrants were read to young Arnold in his jail cell Tuesday.

Taylor said he has received several telephone calls from persons offering to "do anything they can to help the boy."

Leslie made no show of emotion as detective Sgt. John Gallagher read the charges accusing him of the fata' shooting of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Arnold, Sept. 27. The bodies were found in a shallow grave at the family home Saturday and Leslie admitted the killings.

Arraignment on the two charges probably will be Wednesday or Thursday. Deputy County Attorney Francis Pane said he still had two or three "minor witnesses" to interview. He said they are neighbors of the Arnold family.

Private funeral services for the slain couple were held Tuesday.

'Mr. Stubble Mulch' Honored For Ag Services

A man known as "Mr. Stubble Mulch" who has made repeated "breakthroughs in our understanding of soil" was honored at a banquet here Tuesday night for more than 40 years service to agriculture.

Dr. Frank L. Duley, soil conservationist for the Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture and professor of agronomy at the University of Nebraska, was cited for his service to research, professional workers, students and farmers.

"The first plots in the world set up to study the effect of cropping systems on runoff and soil loss were established in 1916 while Dr. Duley was on the staff at the University of Missouri," said D. E. Hutchinson, state soil conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Lincoln.

"This research work has been a basis for setting up runoff and erosion control experiments throughout the country. The technique and manner of setting up such plots have not changed materially since Dr. Duley set up the first plots in Missouri over 40 pears ago. In fact, similar runoff plots were set up in 1958 at the Box Butte Experiment Station at Alliance."

Dr. Duley and J. S. Russell pioneered the stubble mulch system of farming at Nebraska. In 1955, Dr. Duley received an award for Superior Service from the U.S. Department of Agricultur for his stubble mulch studies.

Albert Ebers, Seward farmer who also spoke at the banquet said, "stubble mulch farming prevents erosion by water as well as wind. A bare, firm seedbed and clean, tilled crops are most susceptible to erosion by water and wind. Stubble mulch farming solves this problem. This is the significance of Dr. Duley's work to the farm."

W. H. Allaway, assistant director of the Soil and Water Conservation Division, Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Beltsville, Md., pointed out that, "Dr. Duley has broken down barriers that have surrounded our understanding of soil."

Throughout his career, Dr. Duley has authored or coauthored eight research bulletins, 14 other bulletins and some 56 journal articles.

A native of Grant City, Mo., Dr. Duley holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Wisconsin. His wife, Mrs. Nell Duley, is a district supervisor in the University's Agricultural Extension Service.

State's Federal Collections Up 66%

Omaha (AP) — Federal District Attorney William C. Spire was praised Tuesday by Attorney General Rogers for increasing collections 66%.

"We're particularly proud," said Spire, "because the overall collections nationally were down last year."

He said the increase reflected the efforts of Dean Wallace, assistant U.S. attorney in Lincoln, the U.S. marshal's office and all others in the Nebraska district.

Attorney General Rogers wrote: "The special attention you have given to collecting money owed the government has shown very beneficial results. You have collected $448,171.81 during the fiscal year of 1958 which represents an increase of more than 66% over the collections of the previous fiscal year."

"We've followed up every fine or judgment," Spire said. "Some of the judgments have gone back as much as 15 years."

$10 Million Raised For Building Plan

... By Lutherans

Dayton, Ohio (AP)—The Lutheran Laymen's Movement for Stewardship has raised more than $10 million since 1954 to erect new church buildings and parish houses and pay for remodeling work for 142 congregations.

This was the report given Tuesday night to the 21st biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America (ULCA), largest Lutheran body in the country.

Dr. Henry Endress of Staten Island, N.Y., the LLMS's executive director, told the 700 delegates:

"The aim of this service is to provide the pastor with a co-worker from the outside who will develop and direct a capital funding campaign based upon the principles of Christian stewardship."

The ULCA's official women's auxiliary also reported a record membership. The United Lutheran Church women said it has 163,688 members, with affiliated organizations in 3,800 of the ULCA's 4,500 congregations in the U.S., Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico and Canada.

The convention authorized spending $26,696,560 to operate the church during 1960-61. This is a record budget, compared with $25,113,400 for 1958-59.

Douglas Co. Prisoners Staged Riot

Omaha (AP) — A county jail prisoner was beaten by fellow inmates in a riot two weeks ago that required 20 hastily summoned deputies to quell, Sheriff Patrick E. Corrigan said Tuesday.

The sheriff said several off-duty deputies were called to the court house to herd the prisoners back into their cells with threats of tear gas.

Sheriff Corrigan gave this account of the riot:

"Some of the prisoners decided they would object to the food. It was a case of overcrowding.

"Of the 50 men in the tank, only 6 refused to eat the evening meal. We pointed out that the deputies on duty in the jail ate the same food.

"Captain Walter, in command at the time, put on a gas mask and ordered the 6 back in their cells.

"Two of them complied. Then, with the aid of the other deputies, Captain Walter put the other 4 in solitary confinement. They're still there."

'Slipped His Mind'

Corrigan said he was considering asking the county attorney to prosecute the prisoners involved.

Asked Tuesday why he had not mentioned the beating of the prisoner and the fact that inmates had broken up benches to make clubs, the sheriff said: "I guess it slipped my mind." He also commented that he was surprised he hadn't received any calls from news media. "I guess they weren't listening to their radio monitors (when the deputies were called back.)" he said.

Fairbury Host To Legion Meetings

Lincoln Star Special

Fairbury, Neb. — District No. 11 of the American Legion and Auxiliary met for their annual one-day conventions here Tuesday with Allen J. Becker of Plymouth, commander of the district, presiding at the Legion sessions.

Fairbury Mayor John Aasen extended greetings to the group, and James C. Smith of North Platte, department commander, delivered the afternoon address.

Meanwhile, the Auxiliary met at the Elks building with Mrs. G. E. McLaughlin of Hebron, district president, presiding. Mrs. McLaughlin was re-elected as was Mrs. William Smedjir of Wilber, vice president.

Yarborough Hits GOP For Defeating Labor Reform Bill

Scottsbluff, Neb. (AP) — U.S. Senator Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex) declared Tuesday night the Republicans apparently think the Kennedy-Ives labor bill was a good one.

"The fact that they are trying to charge the Democrats with its failure to pass shows that they think it is a good bill," said Yarborough.

The labor measure, sponsored by the Democratic senator from Massachusetts and Republican from New York, failed to pass the House.

Blamed GOP

Yarborough declared it was the Republicans who defeated the bill.

The Texas senator was the speaker Tuesday night at the state AFL-CIO convention. He flew here from Huntington, W.Va. and plans to go to South Dakota Wednesday.

The Republicans are losing the election, he declared, and "changing to the same tactics they used in 1952."

He said Democratic sponsored measures were responsible for promoting the nation's recovery from the spring recession.

Earlier, Rep. Glenn Cunningham (R-Neb) advised the state labor organization to take "the hot air of political campaigns with a grain of salt."

He urged them to vote for candidates they can trust.

Only Republican

Cunningham is the only major Republican officeholder in Nebraska to have labor support. He has been endorsed by the state AFL-CIO.

Cunningham told the convention that political platforms are often forgotten by candidates after they are elected. He said it was a fact which has disillusioned, disappointed an disgusted the voters.

The former insurance agent said it was a major factor in why so many people fail to vote.

Cunningham defended the administration's policy on Quemoy and Matsu. He said a firm stand was the best deterrent to a major war.

He also disputed statements that we are behind the Russians in the arms race. He said "it just isn't true." He said on the basis of information available to Congress the country "is tremendously strong."

3 Resolutions

The convention adopted 3 resolutions.

One endorsed and supported "the proposition that organic unity between AFL-CIO members and the farmer is feasible and desireable." The resolution also included a provision that "officers of the Nebraska AFL-CIO to establish a farm-labor committee and to encourage all affiliated local unions to do likewise."

The AFL-CIO, in another resolution, recognized "labor's desire and determination to embark upon a program of education and action designed to improve the lot of both farmers and industrial workers of Nebraska."

The convention instructed its officers to "start immediate development of a farmer-labor program."

'Action Group'

The resolution said the proposed farmer-labor program should "be planned so as to permit and encourage individual and voluntary membership in some form of action group."

The group would provide for an exchange of information and speakers between farm and labor groups, and "provide a means of informing both farmers and workers of the attitudes and qualifications of political candidates for all levels of government."

It was suggested that the combined group "jointly explore the possibilities of the formation of an effective social-political organization for the purpose of attaining those goals that are mutally desirable and beneficial to the American farmer and the American worker."

Another resolution provided for a safety committee and affiliation with the National Safety Council.

American Lutherans Re-Elect 5

San Antonio, Tex. (AP) — Five men were re-elected vice presidents of the American Lutheran Church during the group's 15th annual convention Tuesday.

They include the Rev. H. W. Siefkes, Waterloo, Iowa, third vice president.

There was no election for president since Dr. Henry F. Schuh will serve in that post until the merger with the Evangelical Lutheran Church and the United Evangelical Lutheran Church in January, 1961.

The church also voted to permit its two theological schools to charge tuition for training students.

Delegates instructed Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary at Columbus, Ohio, and Wartburg Theological Seminary at Dubuque, Iowa, to adopt the principle of charging tuition as of next September.

They stipulated, however, that the total for all educational fees, plus tuition charges, be limited to $150 per year.

Left $1.8 Million

New York (AP) — Fashion designer Hattie Carnegie left a net estate of $1,899,818, an estate tax appraisal disclosed. She died last Feb. 22.

The principal asset in the gross estate of $2,232,493 was her holdsings in 4 fashion companies. These shares were valued at more than 1½ million dollars.

Tour Arranged

Kimball, Neb. — A tour of Kimball County terracing work and other soil and water saving practices has been arranged for Garden County farmers Thursday, sponsored by the Soil Conservation Service and Extension Service.

Stocks Tumble 1 To 3 Points

New York (AP) — The stock market's 4-week rise to historic highs stumbled Tuesday to an estimated two billion dollar loss in the heaviest trading since Sept. 27, 1955.

Leading stocks were clipped for losses of one to three points.

Sharp declines in coppers and other metal shares which have had a big rise became infectious and traders rushed to take profits in other groups. The ticker tape ran late on four separate occasions totaling one hour and 12 minutes of delay. It also lagged briefly on several other occasions.

At worst, the tape fell 13 minutes behind, the worst lag since June 10, 1957 when President Eisenhower's "upset stomach" brought sharp selling and a 14-minute lag.

Volume soared to 5,110,000 shares compared with 4,550,000 Monday and was the heaviest since the second market session after Wall Street was hit hard by news of Eisenhower's heart attack. Turnover was 5,500,000 shares that day.

Brokers ascribed the fall to a technical correction. They noted that business and economic news was good. Once again, however, the market had approached a level in the averages which theorists opined would be a "resistance level." At any rate, the feeling spread that now is the time to cash in on the phenomenal rise and that's what happened.

The estimated cash loss was on a $1.60 drop in the Associated Press average of 60 stocks to $197.50. The industrials fell $2.20, the rails $2.60 and the utilities 10 cents.

In a broad market of 1,236 issues traded, 785 fell and 253 rose. There were 119 new highs for the year and 4 new lows.

The market was irregular at the start with many big blocks traded at an average price level near the latest record high. A churning movement continued with prices ahead irregularly at midsession.

The decline was far from a rout. Speculative and investment interest ran high and prices were cutting their losses in the final few minutes.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks rose, 4 fell and one was unchanged.

American Stock Exchange prices fell on turnover of 1,660,000 shares compared with 1,370,000 Monday.

BOND MARKET

New York (AP)—U.S. government bonds declined in slow trading with losses among long range issues reaching half a point.

Corporates closed slightly higher with investment quality issues leading the way on moderate volume.

Rails and utilities closed mixed, industrials lower and foreign bonds slightly higher.

Corporate trading increased to $6,710,000 par value on the big board from $5,120,000 Monday.

AP COMMODITY INDEX

New York (AP)—The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities Tuesday declined to 169.86.

Previous day 169.99, week ago 170.66, month ago 170.79, year ago 170.53.

Most Grains Down In Late Trading

Chicago (AP) — Increased selling late in the session pushed most grain futures lower on the board of trade Tuesday after prices had held fairly steady most of the day.

There was no specific news affecting grains.

Wheat was off as much as a cent a bushel on the nearby December delivery at times, mainly because of lack of commercial and export demand. Brazil had been expected in the market Tuesday for 150,000 tons of bread grain but there was no confirmation of the purchase late in the session and nervous traders took to the selling side of the market.

India bought 1,400,000 bushels of white wheat at Atlantic and Pacific ports overnight, but the purchases had little effect on the Chicago futures market.

At the close wheat was unchanged to ⅞ lower, Dec. $1.95¾-⅞; corn ¼ to ⅝ lower, old style December $1.13¾-⅞; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, Dec. 63¾-⅞; rye ⅞ to 2½ lower, Dec. $1.30½-¾, and soybeans ⅜ to 1¼ lower, Nov. $2.15-14⅜.

The downturn in corn futures was attributed to increased cash offerings of the grain to take advantage of high cash premiums for immediate shipment. To traders, this suggested increased offerings of corn in the country.

The soybean market was affected by constant hedging pressure from processors and larger than usual receipts at Chicago.

Dulles-Chou Meet Asked By Mansfield

Washington (UPI) —Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) suggested that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles consider a conference with Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai as a last resort to achieve peace in the Far East.

The assistant Senate Democratic leader also cautioned the Communists against any belief that the current foreign policy debate in this country was a sign of disunity. He said when the chips were down all Americans would support this country's final policy.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has been among the Democratic critics of the administration's handling of the Far East situation. He currently is serving as a member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations General Assembly.

Mansfield said that if current U.S.-Red Chinese talks at Warsaw, Poland, failed to settle the Far East crisis, the faciliities of the U.N. should be used, including the "negotiating abilities of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold."

CAB Authorizes Airlines Boost In Round-Trip, Family Fares

Washington (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board authorized the nation's airlines to boost their prices in several categories, including the cost of round trip tickets and family plan fares.

The airlines can put the changes into effect any time after midnight Sunday, on filing a formal proposal with the CAB.

All increases will expire next July 31. The board said it wanted to keep the increases on a temporary basis because it hopes to complete by next summer a broad inquiry into all passenger fares.

Changes authorized were:

1. Elimination of the current 5% on round trips, circle trips in which the traveler takes a different route home, and open-jaw trips in which he returns from a city other than his outbound destination.

Any Point

2. Elimination of fare concessions on stopovers. At present the traveler can stop at any point along his route and have his fare computed on the basis of his whole trip.

These two types of changes were requested by 8 airlines —American, National, Northeast, Trans World, United, Continental, Eastern and Delta.

3. Reduction of the round trip, circle trip and open-jaw trip discount to 2½%, requested by Capital Airlines.

4. Increases in family plan fares, in which the head of a family pays full fare and other family members accompanying him get reduced rates. Braniff airlines told the CAB it wanted to cut the reduction to 30%, from the present 50%. Seven others proposed to make the reduction 33 1-3%.

The 7 lines asking the one-third reduction were American, Continental, Eastern, National, Northeast, Trans World and United.

CAB action allows all domestic airlines, including local service lines, to adopt any of these proposed changes, whether or not they filed earlier proposals. In addition, any of those who did file will be permitted to withdraw their request if they wish.

Anthony Sued

Los Angeles (AP) — Band leader Ray Anthony was sued for $5,625 in support payments by his ex-wife, singer Dee Keating.

Miss Keating said Anthony agreed to pay her $225 weekly for life or until she remarried but hasn't paid her anything since last April 28.

The band leader, currently in divorce litigation with his present wife, actress Mamie Van Doren, married Miss Keating in 1949. He obtained a Mexican divorce in 1955.

Former State Pen Warden O'Grady Dies

Former Nebraska State Penitentiary Warden Joseph L. O'Grady, 81, died at Falls City Monday while on his way back to his Denver home from Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Mr. O'Grady

Funeral services and burial will be held at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Dawson on Thursday.

O'Grady was named chief probation officer and secretary of the State Board of Pardons in 1935, and later that year was named warden of the penitentiary. He served as warden until 1941, when he resigned and moved to Denver.

A native of Dawson, he attended schools there and became a partner in a local hardware and implement firm. He later farmed for 7 years in Richardson County.

For 13 years he was in charge of manufacturing at the penitentiary before becoming chief probation officer.

O'Grady died after suffering a heart attack at a Falls City hotel. He was being accompanied on his return to Denver by his son, Joseph R. O'Grady of Lincoln and is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Joseph Jazeka of Denver.

Bus Runs Wild

North Manchester, Ind. (AP) —A school bus ran wild into the side of a house when the driver died of a heart attack just as he was about to pick up his first pupils.

Robert Harter, 52, North Manchester, had opened the bus doors for 4 high school pupils waiting at the curb when he fell out of his seat. His foot slipped off the clutch and the bus ran across a street intersection and crashed against the home of Clarence Hippensteel.

Harter died in the bus but nobody else was hurt in the accident.
